THE MOVIES

APRIL 28

To Wong Foo, Thanks for Everything! Julie Newmar

1995

PG-13

1hr 49m

In this wacky comedy, three New York drag queens (Wesley Snipes, Patrick Swayze and John Leguizamo) on their way to Hollywood for a beauty pageant get stranded in a small Midwestern town for the entire weekend when their car breaks down. While waiting for parts for their Cadillac convertible, the flamboyant trio shows the local homophobic redneck that appearing different doesn't mean they don't have humanity in common. Cast: Patrick Swayze, Wesley Snipes, John Leguizamo, more...

JUNE 23

A Fistful of Dollars

1964

R

1hr 41m

The first film in director Sergio Leone and star Clint Eastwood's "Man with No Name" trilogy finds a world-weary gunman in a town torn apart by warring gangs. He agrees to work for both sides, ultimately pitting the two factions against each other. Cast: Clint Eastwood, Marianne Koch, John Wels, more...

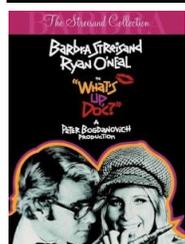

AUGUST 25

What's Up, Doc?

1972

G

1hr 34m

While two researchers are competing for a grant, one must deal with a strange woman who's devoted her life to confusing and embarrassing him. Meanwhile, a woman's jewels are stolen and a government whistleblower arrives with top-secret papers. All, of course, have the same style overnight bag. Barbra Streisand, Ryan O'Neal and Madeline Kahn star in this homage to classic screwball comedies from director Peter Bogdanovich. Cast: Barbra Streisand, Ryan O'Neal, Madeline Kahn, more...

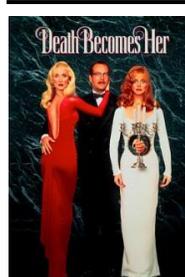

OCTOBER 27

Death Becomes Her

1992

PG-13

1hr 44m

Goldie Hawn and Meryl Streep run wild in this black comedy that mixes rapier wit with cutting-edge special effects. Insufferably vain, the two "frenemies" discover the secret of eternal youth -- and find that it has a few unadvertised drawbacks. Cast: Meryl Streep, Bruce Willis, Goldie Hawn, more...
