Hello Navajo Canyon Members, Associates, and Friends,

I can't get the big smile off my face! Ever since November 8th I've been ecstatic with Trump winning and I'm just giddy. The joy is off the charts!

I'm so relieved we don't have Hillary running this country. I'm so happy that we overcame the lame stream media negativity and that they were incredulous and shell-shocked at Trump winning. I'm so happy that all th shell-shocked at Trump winning. I'm so happy that all the pollsters were wrong. I'm so happy that we broke through the blue wall my home state of WI unexpectedly went from blue to red...Yay! I'm so happy that middle America spoke loud and clear, the unforgotten men and women went to the polls and voted Trump. I'm so happy Nancy Pelosi is running her party in Congress again as that means we will win more Republican seats in 2018 because they just don't get it!

Loved, loved, loved our celebration with you last month at our Luncheon meeting! This has been a very emotional trying, but successful year for us, and it has been a pleasure sharing it with you!

I hope to see all of you at the Christmas party next week, let's keep the celebration going. We deserve it! Bring a friend and let us get acquainted with them. We will be accepting Membership Renewals as well.

Warmest Regards,

Sally

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!!!!

We are all looking forward to 2017!! This election has proven that our Republican values and message has resonated with Americans. We still have work to do as the new agenda for our nation is being played out in the media. Hang on, it's going to be a bumpy ride!

This year, Navajo Canyon has enjoyed many successes (besides the Presidential election!). We have worked hard, enjoyed our events and added to our treasury. I have so many of you to thank for your help and support to make this a very rewarding year. It is because of your commitment to our club that every member has benefited, enjoying our meetings and events.

We still have an opening on our Board of Directors: Ways and Means, aka 3rd VP. This is an important position because it is the main fund raising position for our treasury. It's also the most fun (in my opinion!) because you get to plan the "ways" to make the money. So if you are inclined to be creative and like to plan (and designate) events, this position is just what you need!! Step up and have a turn with this active and supportive Board.

We had quite the celebration the day after the election when several of us took two sheet cakes to the Chula Vista Veterans Home. It started out with just the delivery of the 300 cards we made to honor them on Veterans Day. Then, a few members suggested we take a cake to serve and share when we delivered the cards. What a great day!! Eight of us were there to cut and distribute slices to these wonderful men and women for their luncheon dessert. The pleasure was definitely ours!!

Thanks so much to Gloria Harpenau, Kat Culkin, Michele Kuglitsch, Nancy Amador, Sally Steele, Carol Larabee for joining me for the fun. Not Pictured, Lori Brown from Sen Joel Anderson's office. (And then we went to lunch to continue the celebration!!)

Delivering Happy Veteran's Day Cake and Cards to Chula Vista Veteran's Center.

Here we are: a table full of "ADORABLE DEPLORABLES" celebrating victory!!

December 13: Christmas Party at Ginny Wisley's home. There will not be a speaker.

January 10: With the international community in turmoil, our speaker, Sergeant Major Juan Hidalgo, Jr., USMC (Ret.), will help us to understand the issues important to the safety of America, and our leadership in the world.

On a more personal note: This is the end of my term as the Program Chair for NCRWF. I've enjoyed being part of the selection process for our speakers for the past two years, but could not have done my job without a lot of assistance. Thank you for your suggestions, advice, and support. I am so grateful for all of the help I received. You will be in good hands with your new Program Chair, Colleen White. She will do an outstanding job. Always

Please join me in extending heartfelt THANKS to Glenda Boerner and Cathie Johns who have reached term limits and are vacating their Board positions as VP Ways and Means and VP Programs!

These two ladies selflessly dedicated time, energy, and passion into their positions to further advance Republican values and elect Republican candidates.....plus they made it FUN for all!

Navajo Canyon RWF has benefited immensely from what both Glenda and Cathie have accomplished (too many to list), and we are very grateful for their service!

At about 10:30 a.m. a large group of happy, new naturalized citizens will come streaming out of the double doors to celebrate with their friends and family. We will be there to greet them and register them as Republicans.

By 12 noon, registrations will be complete, the tent will be packed up and the area cleared. Plan then to celebrate your day's accomplishments at lunch with your teammates.

Wear your Republican red and show the Dems our patriotic spirit and spunk! Check the trolley schedule at sdmts.com

YOU ARE STILL NEEDED FOR VOTER REGISTRATION !!

Our election win doesn't mean we stop working to bring others into the Republican tent! There are many we need to inform and educate about the GOP. This has proven to be an ongoing battle with the Democratic party, who still doesn't get why they lost the election! I must admit, I do like the gloating a bit. Okay, a lot!!

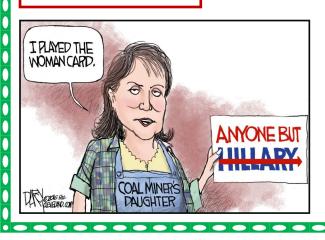

Let's continue working to make sure new citizens, and others, know the value of hard work, and that faith and freedoms are the foundation of our country and the GOP. Please join me at the next New Citizens Ceremony on Wednesday December 14 at 10 am on the Concourse downtown.

Chaplain's Words of Inspiration

Ginny Wisley

"And the Angel said "Do not be afraid, I bring you good news of a great joy which shall be for all the people, for today in the city of David there has been born for you a Savior who is Christ the Lord." Luke 2:10-11

It's December already... wow, where did the time go? We are all in the Spirit but what spirit is it? I saw The Christmas Carol at the Cygnet/Old Town Theatre (well, I've seen it many times – shameless plug: it's amazing & great for kids). This time, I watched with an older mind set. I focused on the Spirits that came to Scrooge.

I watched as Jacob Marley's ghost came in telling Scrooge to be mindful, to change his ways. Have I changed? Have I paid attention to what it means to be open to the world's needs? Christmas Past came next. My memories went those of a child growing up. My champagne taste for the newest craze while my mom did her best on her beer budget. What happiness there was with the extended family getting together for dinner on Christmas Day. Remembering the Santa & reindeer on the front lawn.

The Christmas Present Spirit took Scrooge to the darkest places of life where workers had nothing, to the ships at sea, to the lonely but all had the love of Christ's birthday & love of what the true meaning of Christmas is & was. I questioned if I shared that love to others & respected it as I should.

Last was the Spirit of Christmas Future. The happiness of the townspeople when the news of Scrooge's death occurred. Please Lord don't let that be me!!

I want to be & my prayer will be that I will be the refreshed Scrooge: the one that shares love & amp; life, the person that is giddy with delight, the person that realizes that a Savior was born to share goodness and mercy, the one it was always said of "that she knew how to keep Christmas well, if any woman alive possessed the knowledge. May that be truly said of all of us! And so, as Tiny Tim observed, God bless Us, Every One!" (Charles Dickens, The Christmas Carol)

Blessings & Love to you all & MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Feel free to contact me with any "Chaplain-y" type needs: prayers, a listening ear, etc...that is part of this job.

Many Hillary Clinton voters have ceased communicating with friends, and even family members, who voted for Donald Trump. It is so common that The New York Times published a front-page article on the subject headlined, "Political Divide Splits Relationships — and Thanksgiving, Too." The article begins with three stories:

"Matthew Horn, a software engineer from Boulder, Colo., canceled Christmas plans with his family in Texas. Nancy Sundin, a social worker in Spokane, Wash., has called off Thanksgiving with her mother and brother. Ruth Dorancy, a software designer in Chicago, decided to move her wedding so that her fiance's grandmother and aunt, strong Trump supporters from Florida, could not attend."

The Times acknowledges that this phenomenon is one-sided, saying, "Democrats have dug in their heels, and in some cases are refusing to sit across the table from relatives who voted for President-elect Donald J. Trump."

A number of people who voted for Trump called my show to tell me that their daughters had informed them that they would no longer allow their parents to see their grandchildren. And one man sent me an email reporting that his brother-in-law's mother told him that she "no longer had a son."

All of this raises an obvious question: Why is this phenomenon of cutting off contact with friends and relatives so one-sided? Why don't we hear about conservatives shunning friends and relatives who supported Hillary Clinton? After all, almost every conservative considered Clinton to be ethically and morally challenged. And most believed that another four years of left-wing rule would complete what Barack Obama promised he would do in 2008 if he were elected president — "fundamentally (transform) the United States of America."

In other words, conservatives were not one whit less fearful of Clinton and the Democrats than Democrats were of Trump and Republicans. Yet virtually no conservatives cut off contact with friends, let alone parents, who supported Clinton.

1.) Just like our universities shut out conservative ideas and speakers, more and more individuals on the left now shut out conservative friends and relatives as well as conservative ideas.

2.) Many, if not most, leftists have been indoctrinated with leftism their entire lives. This is easily shown. There are far more conservatives who read articles, listen to and watch broadcasts of the left and have studied under left-wing teachers than there are people on the left who have read, listened to or watched anything of the right or taken classes with conservative instructors. As a result, those on the left really believe that those on the right are all SIXHIRB: sexist, intolerant, xenophobic, homophobic, Islamophobic, racist and bigoted. Not to mention misogynistic and transphobic.

3.) Most left-wing positions are emotion-based. That's a major reason people who hold leftist views will sever relations with people they previously cared for or even loved. Their emotions (in this case, irrational fear and hatred) simply overwhelm them.

4.) Since Karl Marx, leftists have loved ideas more than people. All Trump voters who have been cut off by children, in-laws and lifelong friends now know how true that is.

5.) People on the right think that most people on the left are wrong; people on the left think that most people on the right are evil. Decades of labeling conservative positions as "hateful" and labeling conservative individuals as "sexist," "intolerant," "xenophobic," "homophobic," "racist" and "bigoted" have had their desired effect.

6.) The left associates human decency not so much with personal integrity as with having correct — i.e. progressive — political positions. Therefore, if you don't hold progressive positions, you lack decency. Ask your left-wing friends if they'd rather their high school son or daughter cheat on tests or support Trump.

7.) Most individuals on the left are irreligious, so the commandment "Honor your father and your mother" means nothing to those who have cut off relations with parents because they voted for Trump.

8.) Unlike conservatives, politics gives most leftists' lives meaning. Climate change is a good example. For leftists, fighting carbon emissions means saving human existence on Earth. Now, how often does anyone get a chance to literally save the world? Therefore, to most leftists, if you voted for Trump, you have both negated their reason for living and are literally destroying planet Earth. Why would they have Thanksgiving or Christmas with such a person?

9.) The left tends toward the totalitarian. And every totalitarian ideology seeks to weaken the bonds between children and parents. The left seeks to dilute parental authority and replace it with school authority and government authority. So when your children sever their bond with you because you voted for Trump, they are acting like the good totalitarians the left has molded.

10.) While there are kind and mean individuals on both sides of the political spectrum, as a result of all of the above, there are more mean people on the left than on the right. What other word than "mean" would anyone use to describe a daughter who banished her parents from their grandchildren's lives because of their vote?

I wish none of this were true. But there is a way to prove me wrong: Re-friend your friends and relatives who voted for Trump, and tell everyone who has ended relations with family members — especially with parents — to reach out to them and welcome them back into their lives.
