

Tyrek M. Person Bio

A Servant of Faith and Compassion

“When the Lord spoke, I listened.” Tyrek was born to Tujuana Williams and Cleveland Person. His journey of faith began early, as he sat alongside his grandfather in the deacon section of their local church. His grandfather, recognizing a divine calling, prophesied that Tyrek would become a mighty servant of the Lord.

After graduating from Oscar F. Smith High School with an advanced diploma in 2018, Tyrek pursued higher education at Virginia State University in Petersburg, Virginia. There, he delved into the study of psychology, focusing on child and family counseling. But it was within the walls of the church that Tyrek’s true purpose unfolded.

In his late teens, Tyrek embarked on his ministry at a Baptist church. However, it was when he joined the Pentecostal Church in 2022 that his calling truly took flight. As one of the youngest members, Tyrek found himself in a considerably different spiritual environment—one that resonated deeply with his soul.

During his college years, Tyrek received a profound message from God in a dream. The divine directive was clear: there was work to be done, and Tyrek needed to be prepared and attuned to God’s voice. This experience became the catalyst for his passion and purpose—to assist those who might otherwise go unnoticed.

Now, at the age of 25, Tyrek continues to serve faithfully within the church. But beyond its walls, he seeks solace and connection in nature. It is there, away from distractions, that he most often hears God’s voice—a gentle reminder of his unwavering commitment to compassion, service, and faith.
