

December

December was a great month for Handling Risky Business. We had two wonderful programs that helped not only our at risk youth, but adults seeking career building assistance. We are excited to announce our upcoming programs that will be presented in 2014. We have Bank Of America sponsoring our Financial Literacy Workshops that will help teach our children the secrets to financial success. We also have our first fundraising event which will showcase the talent and fashion in our community. Please visit our website to stay up to date with these programs. If you are interested in assisting in any of our projects, please feel free to email us to become an approved volunteer with our organization.

Resume and Interview Workshop

Location: St. George Park & Aviation Inflatables
Date: 12/12/2013

This two day workshop was a huge success for the participants that attended. We had everything from auditing resumes to role playing and mock interviews. This event had over 20 participants. We would like to thank Aviation Inflatables for their assistance in the first day session. We would also like to thank ANEW-Generation Christian Leadership Academy for their assistance in interviewing skills.

North Pole in St. George Christmas Toy Giveaway

Date: 12/21/2013

Our first Christmas toy drive was stamped with a SUCCESS MARK thanks to so many generous donations and volunteers. We were able to put smiles on so many little faces this day.

As you know, many of today's youth go without a true understanding of the holiday spirit as material items have made it to the top of the list. Our organization wanted to ensure that we not only help teach the spirit of giving, but we added some spice for everyone nice by including reading materials from various bookstore donations and purchases. While all of us are susceptible to hard times, the children in our community had the best expressions of joy on this day. To see Santa and have dreams again of hope love and joy were all the characteristics that can never be purchased, but were all easy to give back on this day.
