

“The songs themselves are also versatile. Property, another of the album’s top tracks seems to include more than one genre into itself, creating a melting pot of music that’s good for just about any music fan.”

“They haven’t blended the mixes together to creating something indistinguishable, but rather let the music stand alone alongside other genres to create a unique sound.”

“What you get with Tap9 is five accomplished musicians playing well-produced original music. With songs that vary from guitar and drum- driven upbeat numbers to sultry saxophone-touched harmony-soaked crooners, this is an album that showcases the versatility of this small town band with the big city sound.”

Bad Tempered Zombie

“Talent is something the group has in spades, along with experience. Each member of the band had played with other musical groups long before Tap 9 came into existence.

While none of Tap 9’s members are career musicians, they all have pursued a passion for music most of their lives.”
