

Course Offerings and Certified Instructors

The following are courses that have traditionally been taught as well as new courses and one in development. Many of the workbooks are being edited to incorporate material that allows a more streamlined curriculum. The instructors available for each workbook and immersion course are those who scored high enough on the oral/written certification exam to deliver the material and who demonstrate an ability to instruct and answer a wide range of questions within each level. Workbook and immersion instructors have the option of scheduling any courses they are certified to teach. All instructors have previous experience co-teaching the content they deliver. This includes times, dates, and geographic locations of instruction. The instructor will notify the Language Committee of the intent to conduct a course no less than six weeks prior to the commencement of the course. This allows for notification on the WLRP website and community newsletters/mailings.

Youth language enrichment activities (i.e. Summer Turtle Program, Family Immersion Camp and After School Programming) are led by WLRP trained staff who have received CORI clearance and are approved to teach to by the lead project linguist.

Workbook Courses Available

1 - Beginner Courses

Beginner Noun Workbook

This course teaches the history of the language. Each speaker learns about Wampanoag gender classification and number of the noun. Also covered in this course are: truncation, peripheral endings, demonstratives, and the yes/no interrogative.

Noun Possession Workbook

This course introduces the speaker to the structure of the Wampanoag phrase. The workbook covers person, number of the noun, dependent noun stems and kinship traditions, inalienable nouns, and the locative case for a noun.

2 - Intermediate Courses

Animate Intransitive Verb Workbook

This workbook covers person and number for the AI verb as well as incorporating knowledge gained from the Beginner courses. Also included are the conjunct forms, if/when, for this verb.

Transitive Inanimate Verb Workbook

This workbook covers person and number for the transitive verb as well as incorporating knowledge gained from all prior courses. This verb form introduces the speaker to the realm of absolute and objective forms of a verb. Also included are the conjunct forms, if/when, for this verb.

Inanimate Intransitive Verb Workbook

This workbook focuses on the verbs relating only to inanimate subjects. The speaker learns number and incorporates lessons from prior work on other forms of the verb as well as basic beginner knowledge. Also included are the conjunct forms, if/when, for this verb.

Particles, Prenouns, Preverbs Workbook (In production)

This course will cover very useful particles that are used without regard to person or number. The speaker will also be introduced to preverbs allowing modification of both phrases to say a wide range of things with more specificity and eloquence. Prior knowledge of nouns and verbs is essential.
