

Vivian was born in Lewiston, Idaho and lived on a ranch outside of Clarkston until graduating from Clarkston High School, then moved to Spokane and got her degree from Holy Names College. After graduation she worked at St. Lukes Hospital writing special diets. She then worked at Kaiser testing labs until she married and moved to Canada.

Vivian was a stay at home mom. She moved back to Clarkston to take care of her father. After his passing she joined AARP. She belongs to the Women of the Moose, having served as an officer and active volunteer. Vivian has been on the Board for The Valley Community Center for 17 years and has been the center's President, Secretary and Vice President. Vivian also volunteers at the Center, helping set up monthly table decorations for the dining room and also volunteering on the set up and donated materials for the Center's twice annual indoor yard sale.
