The word "SAGA" is rendered in a highly stylized, metallic, and three-dimensional font. The letters are thick and have a brushed metal texture, with highlights and shadows that give them a sense of depth and weight. The font is set against a solid black background, which makes the metallic sheen stand out prominently.

Factions

Players will select their Faction from the SAGA: Age of Vikings supplement. Warbands will be 6 points.

Players will then need to decide how many points are allocated to Hearthguard, Warriors or Levy and use the same allocation for the duration of the event.

How the units are sized and armed can be determined at the deployment phase of each game.

Old friends, New enemies, Legendary units and Relics & Artefacts are not allowed in this event.

Conduct

SAGA: Blood & Glory is first and foremost a casual affair that promotes camaraderie, gentlemanly behaviour, meeting new hobby enthusiasts and most of all fun!

While there is certainly a competitive aspect to this event, winning games should never take priority over good sportsmanship and civilized behaviour.

Rules

The rules as defined in the current SAGA rule book will be used along with the latest FAQ document, the SAGA: Book of Battles supplement and the SAGA: Age of Vikings supplement.

Any other clarifications specific to the SAGA: Blood & Glory tournament will be found in this document.

Each player must bring a rule book and all materials needed to play a game including SAGA dice, battle board, measuring devices, and writing implement.

Warband List

A list of your warband consisting of every unit must be emailed to the TO by April 14th, 2019.

A single printed list must be brought to the event and made available to your opponent at the start of each round and or whenever requested.

The models in your warband must be fully painted and WYSIWYG.

Rulings

SAGA: Blood & Glory TO's rulings are final and arguments or poor conduct by players will not be tolerated. Players will find themselves removed from the event if such behaviour occurs.

Pairing

For the first round the players will be paired randomly.

After the first round, swiss pairing format will be used to determine opponents and pairings will be based on results.

Players will meet each other only once, regardless of the relative rankings. A results slip will be provided for both players to complete at the end of each game.

No SAGA Dice

A player immediately loses the game if at the start of any turn his warband does not generate any SAGA dice. Game ends, VP's are scored, and winner is determined.
