

GOODNOW FRONTIER: Executive Protection Services

EXECUTIVE PROTECTION SPECIALIST / PERSONAL PROTECTION AGENT

The Agency's Personal Protection Staff and Executive Protection Agents implement a program are the solution to your safety and concerns. Executive Protection Specialists take a proactive approach by working to alleviate or mitigate a potential threat and terrorist environments prior to anything occurring. A crucial part of this is making 100% accurate Site Specific Threat Assessments, Route Reconnaissance, Embus and Debus plans.

General Duties for “Personal Protection Agents”

A bodyguard used to conjure an image of a hulking figure that didn't talk much, but would “crush” any threat that arose. That is not the image we portray. Nowadays, professional agents must be alert, polite, un-assuming, but fully prepared to protect the client in a manner that minimizes risk of liability and injury.

All Goodnow Frontier and Executac Personal Protection Agents have military, police or decades of experience, and are trained in a minimum of 40-plus hours of less-lethal defensive tactics, 40-plus hours of firearms, 32 hours of Executive Protection, basic first aid and CPR, IPC Inter Personal Communication skills and conflict resolution.

All of Personal Protection Agents are licensed through all applicable state agencies, and must qualify and train to Goodnow Frontier's higher standard before working in the field. It's important to remember that using an untrained or unlicensed bodyguard, makes you liable for their actions. Goodnow Frontier's training follows the models of the ESI (Executive Security International) in addition to those set by individual state regulatory agencies.

Some services offered:

Spousal Protection / Escorts

Personal Protection Agent (PPAs) may be just what you need if you are going through an ugly divorce or a domestic situation. If you need to move items out of a residence, travel to and from work safely, go out with friends for dinner, or just go about your daily routine without fear of assault or incident, a PPA may be just what you need.

Celebrities, Politicians, Entertainers

Being a high-profile celebrity or entertainer often brings about over-zealous fans, angry competition, or pushy media members. An EPS or an PPA trained in customer service and proper verbal de-escalation skills, along with a professional appearance and attitude, can protect your image, while keeping you safe.

Pastoral Bodyguard Service

Many churches and ministries are recognizing the need to have trained personnel to respond to aggressive visitors, protestors, or disgruntled clergy. Some churches and ministries use their own members for their “security team”. Simply having a Concealed Handgun permit and a few hours of training is simply not enough and may be a violation of state regulations. Remember that when acting as your security team, the church or individual pastor is liable for all actions, including any potential use of force.

Short-Term Travelling Persons / Valuables (Courier Service)

Transporting money or sensitive documents poses inherent risks, Goodnow Frontier's armed Personal Protection Agents can act as “couriers” for you or with you, giving you the confidence that a well-trained professional is by your side or observing at a distance.

Terminations and Executive Protection in the Workplace

Terminations can range from routine to high-risk, sometimes changing rapidly as they occur. Goodnow Frontier's Personal Protection Agents provide an obvious or discreet presence in the area and ensure the safety of your management personnel. Goodnow Frontier's Executive Protection Agents provide the security level needed to ensure your safety, without alerting the public or disrupting your workplace or home life. We also provide “house-sitting” service to executives who want peace of mind when under threat or out of town.

Goodnow Frontier's Executive Protection Service offers a full-spectrum solution to the personal protection needs of your situation and environment.

We are ready and willing to ensure the overall safety of you, your business, your reputation, and your assets. Please contact request a quote to get started with planning a complete security solution for your personal life or business.