The Prez Sez.

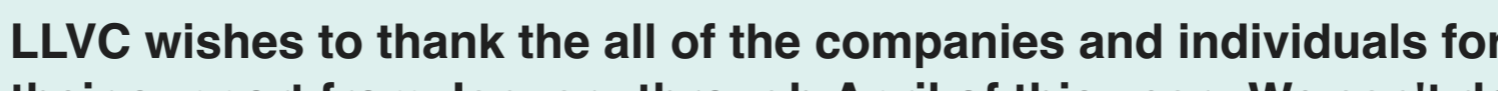

In 2010, the first person I met when I volunteered to temporarily oversee a Laubach Literacy program in Ojai was Barbara Wagner. She was so thrilled to be able to restart the program in Ojai, where it had once flourished. Her enthusiasm was understated but very real. It was obvious how sincerely dedicated she was to helping people learn English.

Laubach lost that "volunteer extraordinaire" on December 9, 2018. The void she left will be very hard to fill. We are just now beginning to realize all the tasks that she very quietly and efficiently did for our organization over the years. Publicity, grant-writing, cataloging of materials, ordering books, scheduling and reserving space for training workshops....and the list goes on and on!

As we find our way through files and binders filled the "evidence" of the years of her service and hard work, we find she did the work of a team of people! We at Laubach want our tutors and donors to know how very much we appreciate all of the contributions of this very special human being and how very fortunate we were to have her as a part (and heart) of this organization for over 25 years!

TUTOR TIPS

ProLiteracyEdNet.org

A number of our tutors have reported success with their students using News for You. This is a weekly newspaper that has a variety of international articles including hard news, entertainment, and sports along with a crossword puzzle. It comes with a Teacher's Guide and is also available in hard copy, but the online version allows the reader to listen to the stories while they read. They can listen over and over again to help with their aural comprehension. Please take a look yourself and share with your students; call us at (805) 385-9584 to get the password.

Students could watch Sesame Street for fun English lessons.

Have a "show and tell" session, describing objects and their uses.
