Deanna Lamey Pearce Does insurance cover this? & how much does it cost?

Hollie Alexander Anthony Alexander Like

Eye Associates of The South Deanna, insurance often doesn't cover LASIK, although some employers' plans do and the US government approved it for pilots, etc. You just have to check your plan. If you pay for it yourself, we have CareCredit for LASIK patients; it provides 0% financing for up to 2 years. Prices vary; some get one eye corrected, most get both, depending on their vision correction issues.

Tami Ackerman-Hall Love this lady...

Maureen McFaul Newcomb If you have Baby cataracts can you still have surgery?

Eye Associates of The South I know what you mean, but that's not the type of medical question that can responsibly be answered online. You'll have to have a cataract surgeon look at your eyes. Dr. Bahadur and Dr. Knight both are highly esteemed cataract specialists in our practice.

Maureen McFaul Newcomb Thank you for the information.

Brenda Everett My doctor too Like

Roianne Newman Gutierrez Brent & I both had corrected eye surgery by Dr. Bahadur - we love it! We haven't had one regret! Every time we have a friend that can't read fine print or see something at a distance & we can they are always shocked! We just say Rainna Bahadur!!!! She's the best!

Debbie Wedderman Is there a limit to how bad your vision can be to qualify for the lasik surgery. I've been told by 3 different eye doctors that my vision is soo bad it really wouldn't be worth it for me because I would still need glasses. I am near sighted and wear bi-focals, my eyes have gone through some changes in the last few years. I have worn glasses since I was 12 and I'm 47 now. I really would like to get the surgery!

Eye Associates of The South Debbie, that's a question that only can be answered if Dr. Bahadur sees you; we have free pre-LASIK screenings. Some people are not good candidates for LASIK. Sometimes, LASEK or PRK are better alternatives, which are similar surgeries that she also performs. Sometimes, none are indicated. Please msg me with your number and a staff member will call you to set up an appointment - or call our Biloxi clinic at (228) 396-5185 to set up a LASIK screening yourself. Hope that helps!

Debbie Wedderman Thank you, I will call and make an appt.

Valaresia CamLex Pam Debbie, I have the same issue. Been wearing glasses since 3rd grade...age 43 now. Thanks for asking this question!
