A quick note about your team and/or your team goals:

We are in our third full season as a team so still fairly young. The Game of Soccer is about energy, passion and skill. The goal is to create an environment that will provide each player with a valuable learning experience in the game of soccer and in life. We want to teach and train athletes the basics in particular skills and then create more awareness so they can apply them in game time situations.

What is the best part of coaching?:

The best part of coaching for me is the satisfaction of watching my players figure things out on their own during a game. Using everything we have taught them and everything they have learned throughout the years and then applying it on their own makes it all worth it. Watching them get excited about half time snacks at 13 comes in close second.
