OVERVIEW:

Nicole LeBoeuf is a civil trial lawyer with active experience in both state and federal courts, as well as arbitration. She is also an arbitrator with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

Nicole regularly represents Dallas law firms and individual attorneys in a variety of matters. She has extensive experience in the representation of business owners and companies in complex and multi-party lawsuits concerning such matters as employment discrimination, deceptive trade practices, breach of contract, fraud, defamation, negligence, breach of fiduciary duty, conspiracy and other business-related claims. Nicole especially enjoys trying cases to juries.

As an officer of the William “Mac” Taylor Inn of Court, and a community leader and volunteer in several organizations including Attorneys Serving the Community, Altrusa and Dallas CASA, Nicole is actively involved with the DFW community.

Nicole regularly speaks to attorneys, engineers and other professionals regarding their ethical obligations, teaches trial and deposition skills to young lawyers, and is a guest lecturer at the University of Texas Naveen Jindal School of Management.
