A Note from Rick: Markets struggled all the way around this week at TLA. Butcher cow and butcher steer prices slipped a little this week due to the large number of cattle hitting the market all over. Bull calf prices fell sharply which came to me as no surprise. Our feeder market was untested for the most part. The special springer sale on Thursday was a cold one. And I'm not just talking about the wind. The market was down from our previous sales, to the tune of $100 per head. It was a buyer's market this week and a good time to be filling the barn, but a tough time to be the seller. I am still optimistic that things will stabilize and I'll have some positive news to bring you. Ok enough about that. I'm just gonna leave it there and change direction. Looking forward to the cow herd dispersal and making a lot of plans for next year. We've got some great new people here with a passion for what they're doing and willing to work hard to bring some new things to TLA. More info will be coming soon. In the meantime, stay warm and stay out of the snow!
