

SUPERINTENDENT DEGENFELDER TOURS UPTON HIGH SCHOOL

Wyoming Superintendent of Public Instruction Megan Degenfelder (left) was in Upton on Monday, September 11 to tour Upton High School to observe how personalized learning and career and technical education are thriving in Weston County School District No. 7 (WCSD7). This was an information gathering meeting to see how to implement personalized learning throughout the state. WCSD7 has been operating under personalized learning for eight years and was one of the first districts in the state to do so. A full story will follow next week. Also pictured are Superintendent Clark Coberly (center) and Upton High School Principal Joseph Samuelson (right).