Out of the mouths of babes: What parents should and should not do at sporting events

By Amy Orndorf

The Washington Post

"Play as a team. Remember to pass."

"Go, Johnny. Score, score, score!"

It can be confusing when you're playing in a soccer game and your coach says one thing and your parents another.

Whom do you listen to?

The situation can get even worse if your parents yell at the coach or other players. While very few parents act poorly at games, KidsPost found that there is some advice kids would like to give their No.1 fans.

1. Cheer for everyone on the team, not just your kid—"Even though your parents cheer for you, if they are very nice and supportive, they can cheer for other people on the team," said Megan, 8, a soccer player.

Teammate Lydia, 8, agreed, "I like it when they cheer for other people because if they only cheered for me I would feel guilty."

2. Let the coach do the coaching—"It embarrasses me when my mom tells me to get the ball and it isn't near me," Megan said.

No kid likes to sit on the bench, but that doesn't mean parents should bug coaches to put their kid in the game.

"I think that if I just play-for maybe five minutes, I can get up there, win it and have a good time," said soccer player Kelsey, 8.

3. Nicknames that might be fine off the field can be very uncool at a sporting event—Soccer player Zoe, 7, said she is embarrassed "when my mom always calls me 'Love Bug.'"

4. Roll tape. Videotaping is OK—"I like it because I can see the mistakes I made and the good things," said James, 10, an ice hockey player.

5. I can't hear you now! - Cheering is great, but don't expect to be understood all the time. Players at the other end of the soccer field don't know what you're saying. And do you really think a swimmer can hear you underwater?

6. Relax! It's a game.—Kids don't want their parents taking the sport more seriously than they do. Kids play to be around other kids, learn skills and have fun! "I think it is fun, and when I have everything on my mind, (playing hockey) calms me down." James said

Coaches

Mandatory coach meeting for U6 & U8 coaches this Tuesday. Rusty's Pizza on Auburn at 7pm.

Fundraiser

We have Brigade t-shirts for sale. We have both men's and women's style in different colors. They are for sale for $15.00 at the information booth. Please come by and check them out and support our league.

Live Scan

If you have not turned in your live scan receipt, please get it to the information booth as soon as possible. You will receive a check in the coach mailboxes.

Alright you parents, we need your help. Our organization is all volunteers and we are looking for fresh new volunteers to join us in making a very successful league. We have several different types of positions that we would love to fill on our board or even just volunteering an hour or so at our information booth. All our current board members have players playing and sometimes don't get away from the booth to watch the games. Now is a perfect time to join, all the heavy lifting has been done, so all we just need a little more help to finish out the season. If you would like to volunteer, please seek out a current board member for more information. Our next board meeting is Tuesday, November 6th 6:30pm at Rusty's on Bernard.

Sponsors are a huge part of the BRYSL. We rely on each team to come up with one sponsor to help support the league. We currently have 78% of our sponsorships for the season. The sponsor money allows us to keep our registration fees lower, it allows each player to receive a trophy or medal at the end of the season. If you are interested in sponsoring a team or the league, please talk to any of our board members at either information center or call us at 869-BRSL (2775).
