INFORMATION

The Teen Drama Workshop is designed for the 13-17 year old student with an interest in Acting. Whether the student is just starting out or has performed before, the workshop provides individual and group instruction that folds together several techniques and principles of the craft in a practical way that is fitted to each student actor's needs. The workshop is geared in understanding the proper "approach" towards performance. The week culminates in a showcase of scenes and one-act plays for public performance.
