2018 KANSAS STATE FAIR

Thank you to all who volunteered at the 2018 Kansas State Fair. It truly takes an army to put together this great event. We had more people volunteering this year than any year since I have started coordinating the state fair. This helps take the work load off of a few and spread it among many. It’s great to see more and more people getting involved. We had more people making creamed honey and bottling honey. There was a great group on Wednesday setting up the booth and labeling honey, lotion bars, pollen, etc. We had great volunteers throughout all 10 days of the fair selling honey, talking at the observation hive, and educating the public about honey bees and beekeeping. The shut down crew did a great job in my absence under the direction of Jim Morford and Stephanie Brown. We had good communication between the 3 of us via phone, text, and email. I heard everything went smoothly and they were packed up in a timely fashion to the surprise of the building manager. My hat is off to everyone who helped out in any way before, during and after the fair.

This year we added a new class to the honey show called black jar honey where the honey submitted was judged on taste only. In order to enter this class you had to enter 2 other honey classes. This created some excitement and we had more entries in the honey show than we’ve had in the previous 9 years. (They only keep records 9 years.) We are working with our honey judge Ginny and the fair to encourage even more participation next year. Stay tuned for more details as they are worked out.

We still have the need for more people to produce comb honey and collect fresh Kansas pollen to be sold at the fair. If you have skill in producing these products get in touch with me at 913-768-4961 or at sandersonk09@gmail.com.

I have left over products from the fair which are for sale. Liquid honey in various size containers at $3.00 a pound, honey sticks at .09 each and lip balms at $1.50 each. These may be purchased in October at Great Bend at our meeting. You may call or message me at 913-768-4961 to place an order in advance if you desire.

Kristi
Time seems to be marching on very fast this fall. This is what happens every year, as beekeepers end harvest and immediately move into preparation for winter with the bees. That may mean holding in place where they are checking for viruses, mites, disease, plenty of food, fixing leaking holes, and preparation for cold and wind. It may mean all of the aforementioned and moving the colonies from their summer locations to winter locations, which can be a mile away, or Texas or even sending them to California to lay out the winter there and be ready to be set in the Almonds in February. All of the above keep us at a steady pace until all is done, the rent honey is out and we can at last breathe for a moment.

The dust is finally setting on harvest and most are done or very close to the end. It appears that the northeast part of Kansas continued to be in a drought situation, so it was hit or miss and not much of a harvest for many. The Central part of Kansas report a very good year. Harvest was up and a little above average for most. Far west seemed to have a good harvest as well, with most reporting an average year.

The fair is over and it looks like we had another successful year at our booth. Thank you Kristi for all the hard work that goes into making the booth works. It takes a tremendous amount of administration to organize it and run it smoothly. There were a few people that put in more than their fair share of time that really helped out this year. I will let Kristi talk about how everything went at the fair this year at our Fall meeting coming in Oct 25th and 26th at Great Bend, KS. We had so many volunteers from different bee clubs throughout Kansas and I really appreciate all who helped. This year Kristi tried to have information on all the clubs that helped, so that new or even experienced beekeepers can join and have fun at a local level.

Since my last report I was invited to and was able to go to a few big events put on by Kansas State Ag and the State of Kansas. I was at a two-day event in Manhattan where I was able to be on a state committee regarding the future of Agriculture. There were some very powerful groups there such as: the Wheat Commission, the Soybean Commission, along with the Cattleman’s Association. The Honey and Pollination industry is pretty small in Kansas, but I managed to do a lot of awareness and education to these associations. I even was able to speak at length in the committee I was in about our industry. I think I have said before but it felt like a guppy next to a whale, but I swam alongside them anyway. I had a stroke of luck at one of the events I was invited to which was an appreciation lunch for Agriculture. I went in line and picked up my meal and sat down at a table by myself. I heard a voice ask if they could sit with me. I said of course without really looking up. When I did, there was Governor Colyer and the Secretary of Transportation who sat with me. Later the Secretary of Agriculture stopped by. It seems there was a whirl of dignitaries that stopped to talk to him and others, all of whom I was introduced to as being from the Honey and Pollination industry. I was able to talk at length to our Governor about different aspects of honey bees, honey, pollination; as well to others that stopped by. It was also interesting on a personnel level as I talked with the Governor about what all he does on a daily basis and how much he travels. I felt good about having such an opportunity. I decided to not buy any lottery tickets for a good long time because I was sure I used up all my luck for a long while.

The month of October will require me to do a bit of traveling as I talk to some clubs that have asked me about the realities of pesticides. Then it will be off to our fall meeting that Joli has planned for us. I am sure in the Capping’s there will be a page or so on the program. Becky has had some groups asking about our grant and we will take a look at those at our board meeting on Thursday night. I have had many emails and phone calls that I try to answer and enjoy talking with all about our industry. Hope to see all of you at the Fall meeting in Great Bend.

Kansas Honey Producers
e/o Kristi Sanderson
1252 E. Frontier Lane
Olathe, KS  66062

Dear Kristi,

On behalf of the Agriculture Department of the Kansas State Fair, I want to express my appreciation to the Honey Producers for providing the engraved plaques for the winners in the adult and youth department. This year there were a total of eighty-one entries which is the highest number of entries in the last nine years.

There were eight entries in the youth division and 73 entries in the adult departments. Mark Mounce received Best of Show in the adult division and Matthew Goodner took Best of Show in the youth. The Honey Gift Package winner was Kimberly Lee of Topeka.

The new Black Label competition class had twelve entries and Kristi Sanderson of Olathe was the winner.

Your interest in the Fair is an incentive for the exhibitors. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Gene Algim
Agriculture Department Superintendent

Room rates are $75.95 per night for exterior rooms and $80.95 for interior rooms.

Our guest speakers will be:

Gary Reuter: Apiculture Technician, University of Minnesota

Gary will do a 1-day (Friday) Queen Rearing Workshop that will be limited to the 30 people – there will be a nominal fee or $6 charged for some of the materials. It will be payable on Friday. Saturday you will be able to check your grafts – so maybe an hour on Saturday too. Limited to 30 people. Note: This class is filled.

Ginger Reuter: will do a beeswax workshop, a Batik demo & a workshop on Ukrainian Eggs limited to 12 people.

John Miller: Commercial Beekeeper, Gackle SD, Newcastle CA and Blackfoot ID. Miller Honey Company produces millions of pounds of honey each year.

Pat Randol is from Winterset Iowa and operates Randol Honey Farm. She has quite a few hives and does several Farmers Markets in the area. She does a lot of value added products. She will present on Making Goats milk soap with honey and making lotions and lotion bars. She makes a flavored honey, and so much more. They also have a website.

Please note that there will be two programs going on at one time a several times there will be three choices. The Queen rearing workshop which is limited to 30 people and the Ukrainian Eggs Workshop is limited to 12 people will need to be preregistered. For those two workshops you must email Joli at joli@heartlandhoney.com or call her at 913-593-3562 to reserve your space.

Cooking Contest–Friday, late afternoon. Appetizers with honey as the main sweetener. Members are asked to bring enough for 75 people. Prizes will be awarded and plates will be provided. Please bring recipes.

Mark your calendars for Spring, March 8 & 9 2019 in Lawrence KS. We have Dr. Juliana Rangel from Texas A&M. Our Fall meeting in 2019 will be October 18 & 19, 2019 Wichita.

Does anyone have a microwave that you could bring to the meeting for one of our guest speakers to use? Any ideas for a fun program on Friday night? Call Joli Winer at 913-593-3562 or email me if you have any ideas.
Wintering Bees. Winter a most difficult time for bees, even more so if the beekeeper hasn’t prepared the hives correctly. This is the time of year when the most losses occur, mainly through ignorance or bad management the hives are left to their own devices. Preparation of the colony for winter must begin in late summer or early fall. In northern climates, preparation usually starts in August/September, though it may begin earlier depending on the location. Beekeepers must ensure that there are enough food stores for the entire winter and that the colony is healthy and strong. One of the leading causes of colony death during the winter is lack of food. Generally, there should be about 90 pounds of honey reserves for a colony in the North, since bees will not be able to forage in the winter. If there is not enough honey stored in the supers for the winter after the removal of surplus honey by the beekeeper, the hives can be supplemented with a mixture of sugar syrup (2 parts sucrose sugar: 1 part water by volume) in the fall. Bees will store the syrup as a substitute “honey” for use throughout the winter. Colonies that have enough honey or stored sugar syrup to survive winter will pass the “lift” test. To conduct a lift test, attempt to lift the colony with one hand using the handle on the back of the bottommost super. If the hive is difficult to rock forward with one hand, then it likely has enough food reserves to survive winter. If the hive is easy to lift, then it probably needs more food.

Norbert’s Nucs

We raise six frame nucs. For $150 you get a laying Queen and five frames of bees and brood. If you want the sixth frame we will give you a price depending upon how much brood is on the frame. If you don’t want it we use it for raising Queen’s.

Compare with anyone else on the market. Our product is usually ready in early May; however, weather conditions could delay until later in May. With us you get 20 per cent more bees and brood for a much faster start.

Quantities are limited.
