

AGD SYSTEMS is contracted to supply tactical aircraft for Forward Air Controllers (FAC) at CONUS Ranges

Press Release • July 10, 2019 12:30 EDT

Ft. Lauderdale, Florida July 10, 2019 (Newswire) - AGD SYSTEMS announces selection to supply tactical aircraft for Forward Air Controllers (FAC) at CONUS Ranges. AGD Systems expects to be a subcontractor to provide tactical aircraft in support of Forward Air Controller (FAC) exercises at various training ranges throughout the Continental United States (CONUS). The A-4 Skyhawk is expected to be the aircraft used for this effort. Mark Daniels, CEO of AGD SYSTEMS was quoted saying, “we are happy that we may be a part of this training which is an essential in helping the warfighter do their job better and saves the government money, as they don’t have to use more expensive aircraft to perform the same task”, said Daniels.

About AGD SYSTEMS CORPORATION

AGD SYSTEMS CORPORATION (www.agdsystems.com) is an emerging international company that focuses its business case in the transportation sector providing services to government and commercial industry. AGD Systems recently acquired AeroGroup Incorporated. AeroGroup has been supporting military pilot training, research and development programs since 1999. AeroGroup was the first civilian commercial company to perform F-16 training programs in the Continental United States for the Dutch Air Force and OCONUS F-16MLU training for the Belgian Air Component. AGD Systems provides assets for military operations under government contracts, including; sales, services, training, maintenance, parts, subject matter experts, consultants, logistics, technology design, testing, development, and research.

AGD SYSTEMS CORP is a U.S. Based Defense Contractor.

Contact:

Newswire Services

www.newswire.com