

Innovative ideas

Accessible Keyboard Breakthrough: Tap and Wearable Keyboards

Recent developments have added yet another incredible and versatile option for those seeking an accessible keyboard: A tap keyboard fits around the user's fingers, which is connected through five rings and only requires limited finger movement and the use of one hand. Tap keyboards transform any surface into a keyboard you can 'type' on.

The company leading the charge with the innovation is Tap, who crowd funded the wearable, brass knuckle keyboard.

<https://youtu.be/gtSQT8lS4vo>

Picture shows the wearable keyboard on fingers and as the person taps on a table the message gets typed on the phone screen