WE LISTEN

Serenity Center hopes to intercept children at the earliest possible stage and divert them away from the juvenile justice system and toward appropriate mental health treatment if needed.

Serenity Center has created a program that focuses primarily on youth in the diversion program. Major focus will be on a structured transition that begins with the initial contact with the court and carried on throughout their probationary period.

The Serenity Aftercare Program

seeks to reduce recidivism among low-risk youths. A youth's involvement with this program would benefit them in areas such as family and peer relations, education, employment, substance abuse, mental health, and recidivism.

The Serenity Center Aftercare Program should be thought of as a correctional continuum consisting of pre-probation planning and structured transition that requires the child's participation during the probationary period.

The central component of The Serenity Center Aftercare Program is its case management system. Case management will coordinate planning of service and monitoring of juvenile offenders during their probationary period. The elements of the case management system provide explicit guidance for successful transition and aftercare.

WE LISTEN

CPST services incorporate individualized case planning that includes family and community perspectives.

- ✦ Intake interviews are used to formulate and apply an action plan.
- ✦ Planning ensures the integrity of the services.
- ✦ Individual sessions are used to discuss progress in the program, personal problems, feelings, goals, and other areas of need.
- ✦ Study skills improve individual academic performance.
- ✦ Life and job skill training enhances independence and the performance of daily activities.

The case manager identifies how the services are addressed during the probationary period.

This requires addressing the youths' problems in relation to their family and peers, social skills, education, substance abuse, mental health, and recidivism.

In addition, case management services involves assessments, individual case planning, job readiness, social skills, vocational skills training, individual counseling, parent orientation, and anger management.

To meet the broad range and depth of services required for at-risk youths, The Serenity Center Aftercare Program creates alliances and partnerships with a host of agencies.
