All players go home with either trophy or chess medal to show off to Mom in Sunday's special tournament

All players will also have a chance for draw prizes to share with Mom!

The May 14 Mother's Day Tournament at Greenfield Hall had attracted over 20 players by Wednesday morning and is expected to climb to a similar number of the almost 60 participants who battled over the chess boards on April 30.

Due to Mother's Day, the tournament will consist only of four-player round robin sections which should end no later than 3 p.m. if all entrants sign in as close to 12:30 as possible. Each section will offer a first-place trophy and a gold, silver and bronze medal for 2nd to 4th place.

This spring more first-time tournament players are getting involved and this Sunday's tournament offers competition among similarly-rated participants for all school grades, K to 12. Online registration ends 12 noon Saturday, or sooner if maximum entries are received prior to then.
