

“LIFEFORCE TO THE WORKFORCE”

A day of personal interaction, discovery and breakthroughs to forge a positive mind-set for your career and personal achievement. Ari facilitates this day-long retreat of understanding our Reference Points and implementing the emotional tools to sharpen your mental axe.

MORNING SESSION

- ▲ How does your daily life affect your performance at work and at home? Do you enjoy your work and the people you work with? Do you want to be more productive? Do you wish your peers would treat you with greater respect? We will address these, and a whole lot more.
- ▲ What is your company’s “Why?” What are the biggest mistakes companies make when hiring employees. How does it affect the company, your work habits and those you work alongside?
- ▲ What is your “Why?” What is it? This understanding of your internal “why” is everything that makes you tick. Why do you do the things you do? How can you use this to your advantage?
- ▲ Understanding your “Reference Points” and how they dramatically affect those around you such as your spouse, your significant other, your children, and those you work with day-to-day.
- ▲ How we are all “conditioned” in bad ways, and good. How do you break bad habits? Together, we will recondition your mind, to only think like a winner!
- ▲ Do you dread going into work the next day? How to change your mind-set into a positive force that will make those around you appreciate you more, and how you can help others.
- ▲ What is your needs list? This is your “life list” of the changes you want to make in yourself and what you do with those changes. Watch your co-workers “transform” themselves right before your eyes. The whole day involves audience participation and it’s an amazing part of the day.
- ▲ How do you define success? What does it look like to you?

AFTERNOON SESSION

THE FOUR PERSONALITIES

What personality type are you?

I break this session down into a very fun and exciting segment to show you:

- ▲ Exactly who you are.
- ▲ How you interact with others.
- ▲ Understanding why you do it.

It’s the part of the day where you have the “Ah Ha” moment and you’ll see you co-workers come completely unglued, in a fun way, of course.

After understanding your true personality, the way you behave at work, and at home, will change dramatically.

We will all laugh together, maybe shed a few tears, and learn much about each other.

The interaction with your co-workers will also change for the better. Not to leave management out, but they get a dose of my medicine as well. Watch what happens to the changes of behavior between employees and management. It’s an eye-opener.

I will give you the “emotional tools” to use to make certain areas of your life much better.

You will then be able to take massive action in these areas your life, so it will be enriched and fulfilling.

This production is adult-themed in content.

Your coach for the event is Aristides Priakos, or Ari, as his friends call him. He has spent the last 20 years as a student of personal development, and has studied with some of the greatest success coaches in the world. Ari has spent years developing his own series that he now calls, “LifeForce into the WorkForce”

He has honed his personal and people skills, from his background as an investment banker, an entrepreneur and a philanthropist, giving you a unique perspective on life through his eyes. He understands the operational side of companies extremely well, built huge teams in business and network marketing, is a published author, and was a top producer at every company he worked for. This workshop is specifically designed and developed for corporations and their employees and management. From the CEO, to the personal greeter at your door, you will be equipped with the emotional tools to become more productive and improve all areas of your life at work, and at home.
