Message Of Encouragement - Lay Director Walk 107

It is Holy Week as I write these reflections. As I rode through the city where I work, there are no visible human symbols of this important time when we remember the entry of our Savior into the city of Jerusalem. Unlike the lights and decorations of Christmas, I cannot see any intentional signs of the celebration of our Lord's resurrection. What I am aware of is the amazingly beautiful displays of the natural order in springtime. Flowers, budding trees, birds and other parts of the created world are showing the glory of the Creator!

In my work, I am keenly aware of the anxious and uncertain situations of the human order. The stock market is volatile. The "r" word (recession) is spoken with concern and dread. Prices in the grocery stores and gas lines have many families tightening their belts. In my community, I also know that we are a country at war – families are separated and bravely praying for the return of their loved ones.

Amid all this uncertainty, I am certain that God still has the best economic recovery plan, the best plan for peace and the best plan for happiness. His plan has a name – His name is Jesus. As walk 107 draws near, I am sure that God will send His Spirit to the Emmaus community where those who seek Him will have their eyes opened and they will see Him and come to know Him better. After all...

This is my Father's world,
Why should my heart be sad,
The Lord is King
Let the Heavens Ring,
God Reigns let the earth be glad.

I am a professing follower of the King of all creation, and I am thankful to be given an awareness of His presence when the world does not see Him. By our love and service, the ladies of walk 107 will have seen Him! Praise be to GOD!

Message of Encouragement - Lay Director Walk 108

It is hard to believe that it has been seven and a half years since my original walk in October of 2000. I am sure The Lord had a good laugh as I sat there on Walk 38 thinking to myself, "There's no way I'll ever stand up there and give a talk". Now, in 2008, I am a little sad that I will soon deliver my last Emmaus talk. That is how God helps us grow - by stepping out of our comfort zone and trusting that he will use us for something greater than ourselves. I don't know what God has planned for me next, but one thing I've learned along this journey is that if I trust Him and let Him lead the way, I will be amazed at the results.

Words cannot express the blessing that being a part of this Emmaus community has been in my life, both from the joy of serving in the various work areas and especially from the amazing and inspiring friends I've made along the way. If you have not come back and gotten involved, I encourage you to do so - you will be richly blessed. Some of my fondest memories are from serving in the kitchen, being in the Speaker's Prayer Chapel, Attending Candlelight and Closing. No job is too big or too small, come and try them all!

Counting on Christ

I find the cross ceremony to be one of the most meaningful moments of the Walk to Emmaus. Before going to closing, each pilgrim is given a cross and confronted with the statement, "Christ is counting on you." The prompted response is "And I am counting on Christ." The ceremony is a summary of the life of discipleship lived in response to grace.

It is a special privilege to serve the pilgrims of Walk 107 with Sharmon, my wonderful wife. Sharing the blessings of Emmaus with others has been one of the deep joys of our lives.

As I reflect on our Fourth Days, Sharmon and I have lived out the dynamics of the cross ceremony over and over. There are times when Christ has called us into difficult circumstances – situations far beyond our wisdom, abilities, or strengths. In these circumstances, we have learned to count on Christ. Our Lord has promised to never leave or forsake us (Hebrews 13:5). Time after time, the Lord has brought to the situations exactly what was needed and made God's glorious presence known. Each time I put on my Emmaus cross and consider Christ's faithfulness to us, I am humbled by the authenticity and the integrity of this amazing life of discipleship.

On Walk 107, a new group of pilgrims will be challenged to take up their crosses and follow Jesus. It is exciting to think about all that God will accomplish through their lives. Team 107 has the privilege and challenge of serving these pilgrims. As we lift high the cross, I am confident our community will again see the glory of our Risen Lord. Pray for us as we make this Walk, and in whatever circumstance you find yourself, remember to count on Christ!

De Colores!

Letter From Mother and Son - Recent Chrysalis Flight #48

(Jorie Welch with son Geoff Welch)

Chrysalis - What It Means To Me

The three-day experience of Chrysalis has made a tremendous impact on my son. He was not sure what to expect.

I guess none of us really knows what we'll find when we embark on this journey. But, he packed his bag and was unsure about leaving his cell phone or video games behind. I assured him that he wouldn't miss it. I also told him there was no need to bring any snacks, because the food would be plentiful!

Geoff shared with me that, during some of the talks that were given by the leaders and by the clergy, he felt like their spoken words were arrows that were shooting directly into his heart. Hearing this, I had shivers run up and down my spine, because I was privileged to pray with the speakers before they gave their talks. One of the ministers prayed before every talk that the words shared would be like arrows that Jesus would shoot into the hearts of all the young men. WOW! To hear Geoff describe the effect of the talks was exactly what was prayed for, word-for-word, that's just powerful!

Since his Flight, I see in Geoff a more sensitive spirit. He wants to share the gospel, not just with words but through his actions and his character – how he lives his life. His perspective has changed. He sees that good deeds done are not just "nice" or an act of kindness, but it can also be a way of sharing God's love -- Agape love -- with others.

"Chrysalis was a time for me to get closer to God and figure out who I was as a Christian. There are a lot of atheists and Satanists in my school, so I would like to use this new-found relationship with God to try and help them." (quote from Geoff)

Reflections From Recent Chrysalis Flight

Hey Mr. Williams,
Ya'll were great last weekend.
So many things going on behind scenes and it was amazing.
God be with you.
Fly with Christ!
Brannon
(note to an Adult Table Leader Flight 48)

"I enjoyed Chrysalis for a lot of reasons -- one being that the blessings that I received far, far exceeded whatever I might have given.

But Chrysalis was a little more laid back than Emmaus...has to be, to keep teenage boys' attention, I think. I enjoyed the laid back atmosphere.

The facilities are "rustic," but everything was clean. The new conference center, when the money is raised to complete, will be nice. We had our talks there.

The place where we slept, the "pink palace," was clean, and the water was hot and plenty of it. I loved the old camp meeting tabernacle, the food was great and there was lots of it. And I heard not a single boy complain about anything.

Main thing, God was there.

I heard the most moving talk on the Prodigal of my entire life. It was such a blessing, - my cup is running over."

"Now I have changed my attitude on life in general. Before I probably wouldn't stand up and say that I was a Christian and Jesus is my savior. I used to be a little bit negative, but now I only see the good in the world. I used to act like a Christian on Sundays, but act like a NonChristian the rest of the week. I feel that I want to honor God in ALL that I do and I am working towards that in all that I do. "

(message from Brannon Winter - Chrysalis Teen /Caterpillar - Flight 48)
