George E. Stair

MUKWONAGO — George E.
Stair, 83, of 800 S. Rochester st., died yesterday at Waukesha Memorial hospital.

Stair, the father of 13, is survived by 33 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren. Eleven of his children who still survive him are: Mrs. Ruby Wendt, Mrs. Irene Keating, Mrs. Josephine Miller, Mrs. Hazle Bethke, Mrs. Pearl Slater and Mrs. Virginia Wiedeman, all of Waukesha.

Sons surviving are Lester, Francis, and Homer, Waukesha, Wilford, Milwaukee, and Howard, Mukwonago.

Stair was preceded in death by his wife, Josephine, who died July 22, 1949. Two children, a son, George, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Baughmann, also preceded him in death.

Stair was born June 3, 1878, at Waterford, Wis. He married his wife on Dec. 27, 1901, then worked as a farmer. For the last several years, he was retired.

Services will be at 2 p.m.
Saturday from the Guequierre Funeral home, Mukwonago.
The Rev. C. Schnorr, pastor of Mount Olive Lutheran church, will officiate.

The body will lie in state after 6 p.m. tomorrow. Memorial tributes to the Mount Olive Lutheran church would be appreciated in lieu of flowers.

the subtleties of what he was doing.

Nor was Marcie Knopp up to her usual form as Mrs. Elgin. Her movements were much too studied for any impression of being natural and fluid. In a word, she was "wooden when" a unique and elusive plasticity would have been more appropriate. Mrs. Knopp, no newcomer to the stage, recited her dialogue rather than interpreting it.

When Odets demanded a blazing fire, the Sunset Players gave forth a sputtering flame. When the script called for perception, they offered only surface action.

More intimacy with the play may result in a smoother end product. As it stands now, "County Girl" has a rustic quality which gives it all the novelty of a barn set in Times Square.

But the play isn't rustic in that sense of the word.
It is filled with pathos, sentiment and love. Few of these qualities are given room to breathe at the Sunset.
