

Nick is thrilled to have the opportunity to direct for the West Bend Children's Theater for their 2023 season. He had the pleasure of working with the company in 2019 for their production of Madagascar the musical. In addition to his time with WBCT, he has collaborated with many different southeastern Wisconsin directors which will enable him to bring a unique perspective to the company. He holds in high regard the WBCT's mission to offer children the opportunity to experience the beautiful world of musical theater. He looks forward to sharing the world of pure imagination with the community as the company celebrates their 90th season of performance.
