

NATRC Leisure Ride at Rabbit Valley - SUNDAY October 13, 2019.

Rabbit Valley Competitive Trail Ride

The Rabbit Valley Competitive Trail Ride has returned and we invite you to come ride with us to experience the beauty of the high desert landscapes of Western Colorado and Eastern Utah. Rabbit Valley is part of the McInnis Canyons National Conservation Area (NCA), for the BLM National Landscape Conservation System. This conservation system conserves, protects and restores some of America's most spectacular landscapes with rock outcroppings, unique rock formations and ancient Indian rock art. Beautiful views overlook the Colorado River and the Black Ridge Canyon Wilderness.

Directions to Camp: Rabbit Valley is accessed from I-70 just a few miles from the Colorado-Utah state line. From the East, travel west on I-70 toward Utah, and take Exit #2 which is clearly marked. Go South on the overpass crossing I-70 and follow the signs to camp. From the West heading from Utah into Colorado, take Exit #2 as above. Nearest services approximately 20 miles.

Camp Facilities: You are welcome to come in and camp with us but you can also arrive on Sunday morning. Camping is in a designated, graveled parking area with porta-potties and horse water ONLY. Bring your own drinking water. Nights will be cool, so be prepared to blanket your horses. Horses can be tied to the trailers, secured by a high-tie attachment or portable corral panels not to exceed 12'x12'. (See Rule Book Section 5B)

Since parking is limited to the area specified by the BLM, a parking attendant will help you park in the most space-saving manner possible.

Certified weed-free hay is required by the BLM.
