

ART AND SCIENCE OF THE BELOVED

Relationship as a Path to Self-Actualization

“Art & Science of The Beloved” is 2-day experiential workshop that enables you explore & enrich your relationship with your self and your significant other.

The search for Relationship is often a disguised search for the Self. When this need to find, see and meet oneself is not met in a marriage/ partnership, it results in conflict, betrayal and heartbreak.

In a playful and humorous way, #ASB provides you with radical perspectives on how to use your relationship challenges as opportunities for self-discovery and mutual growth.

For Whom: Singles, Couples, Partners dealing with a break-up, Spouses going through Separation/Divorce. Also recommended for Psychotherapists and Counsellors working with relationship issues.
