Definition of "Meltaway"

The word "Meltaway" is a designation of honor given to only to the most superlative chocolate confections: a chocolate so smooth, so delectable, that it will literally "melt-a-way," when applied to the tongue. Producing the meltaway is both an art and a science that requires passion and innovation from the artisan; methods perfected by the Baker family throughout decades of a commitment to excellence in chocolate.

Bakers Candies:

Run by former Nebraska SkillsUSA State Officers, Todd and Paul Baker, Bakers Candies annually produces over 30 million meltaways from our Greenwood, Nebraska manufacturing plant. 100% family owned and operated, our exclusively American made chocolates sacrifice nothing to the best in the world and yet are offered at exceptional blue-collar prices. A tradition that has created the genesis for a new movement in chocolate: so decadent, so affordable, we call it, "Blue Collar Gourmet™."
