PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Well, we made it through my first meeting as President and here comes my first column in the Flammen. One of the problems of running for office is sometimes you win.

I went to Trollheim's (Lakewood) Lutefisk and Meatball Dinner last Saturday and I learned a few things. Their lutefisk was excellent - firm but done. They sprinkle bacon on top. They also have cooking pans with screens on the bottom to collect the water. I like our family style serving better than the serving line but it means we must have all of our food ready for serving all at once. Not an easy task. Next week I go to Steinfjell (Loveland) for their Anniversary Luncheon. I may learn some more.

We are hoping to provide more programs for young people. If you have an interest in starting a youth program, please let me know. We also will start dancing soon. If you have happy feet and could organize this project, your help would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you to Marilyn Keck, Virginia Nelson, Eunice Bluhm, Bjorg Mapstone and LaRue Hanson for completing the Annual Report for District 6. It includes several pages of questions, a narrative on our events and programs for the year and lots of pictures. It looks great. Tusen Takk.

I want recognize Paul Wiig for his outstanding work as President for the past two years. We have seen improvements to the building during his term. Membership has increased, new programs such as Book Club and the breakfasts have become established. Things have gone well for the Lodge these past two years and it is due to Paul's leadership. He should be proud. We are. Tusen Takk my friend.

We will see you at 6:00 pm on Wednesday, February 9 for Pot Luck Dinner and 7:00 pm for New Member Welcome and the regular meeting.

Mike Johaneson

VELKOMMEN TIL BORDS!

JOKE OF THE MONTH

Several days ago as I left a meeting at a hotel; I desperately gave myself a personal TSA pat down. I was looking for my keys. They were not in my pockets. A quick search in the meeting room revealed nothing.

Suddenly I realized I must have left them in the car. Frantically, I headed for the parking lot.

My husband has scolded me many times for leaving the keys in the ignition. My theory is the ignition is the best place not to lose them. His theory is that the car will be stolen. As I burst through the door, I came to a terrifying conclusion.

His theory was right. The parking lot was empty.

I immediately called the police. I gave them my location, confessed that I had left my keys in the car, and that it had been stolen.

Then I made the most difficult call of all, "Honey," I stammered; I always call him "honey" in times like these. "I left my keys in the car and it has been stolen."

There was a period of silence. I thought the call had been dropped, but then I heard his voice. "Are you kiddin' me", he barked, "I dropped you off"!!!!!!

Now it was my time to be silent. Embarrassed, I said, "Well, come and get me."

He retorted, "I will, as soon as I convince this policeman I have not stolen your car."

Yep it's the golden years

HEART-SHAPED CREAM WAFFLES (VAFLER)

The Great Scandinavian Baking Book
Beatrice Ojakangas

- ⅔ cup all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp freshly ground cardamom
- 3 eggs
- ¼ cup sugar
- ⅔ cup dairy sour cream
- 3 tbsp melted butter
- butter for brushing the iron
- powdered sugar
- jam or fresh berries to serve with the waffles
- whipped cream to serve with the waffles (optional)

The traditional Scandinavian waffle iron makes individual heart-shaped waffles. (A regular waffle iron may not be as attractive, but the waffles will taste just as good, although they may be slightly thicker and not quite so light.)

Stir flour and cardamom together and set aside. In small bowl of electric mixer, beat the eggs and sugar together at high speed for 10 minutes until mixture forms ribbons when beaters are lifted.

Sprinkle flour mixture over eggs; stir the sour cream until smooth and add to the mixture, folding until batter is smooth. Fold in the melted butter.

Place the waffle iron over medium heat and heat until a drop of water sizzles on the grid, turning over once to heat both sides. Brush the grids with butter and spoon in the batter. Bake, turning once, until golden brown, then remove from iron and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve immediately with tart lingonberry or other jam or fresh berries and whipped cream.

Or, bake waffles in a standard electric waffle iron as manufacturer of the iron directs.

THE SUNNY CORNER

We wish all who are celebrating birthdays and anniversaries this month a wonderful day and many memories.

Darlene Aaland is experiencing pain in her shoulder from osteoarthritis. She is not sure yet where this will go, but we wish for her some treatment that will make her feel better.

Tania Oldervik is recovering from a trip to the hospital with kidney issues but was at lunch with us the other day and is feeling pretty good. Please keep these folks in your thoughts and prayers.

I have not heard of any other members who are under the weather. But if you know of anyone who is not well, please let me know at 390-0621.

Thought for the month: A true friend is someone who reaches for your hand and touches your heart.

LANGUAGE STUDIES BENEFIT BRAIN GROWTH

Looking to learn a second or third language? Lucky for you, foreign language study will do more than improve your communication; it will also trigger brain growth.

Researchers with the Institute for Human Development in Germany and Sweden's Karolinska Institute and the University of Umeå have discovered that just three months of intensive language learning leads to an enlargement of the hippocampus, the part of the brain that is responsible for language, memory and spatial navigation.

The study was conducted by evaluating the brains of students at the Swedish Armed Forces Interpreter Academy before and three months into completing 13-month courses in languages like Russian, Arabic and Dari. "Although you can't compare three months of intensive language studies with an entire life as a bilingual person, there's every indication that studying a language is a good way of keeping your brain fit," says Johan Mårtensson, researcher with the University of Lund in Sweden. Researchers also determined that the method and ease of learning also impacted the brains of the students. Students who found it easy to master new languages had the most significant amount of growth in the hippocampus while students who struggled more than their counterparts to master the new language had the highest increases in growth in portions of the cerebral cortex responsible for motor functions. Additionally, it is also suggested that this method of cerebral "bodybuilding" in the hippocampus may have other health benefits, such as reducing the risk of dementia and slowing Alzheimer's.

To get a leg up on learning a new language and triggering your own brain growth, check out two great language programs available to Sons of Norway members. The first one, "Norwegian in 5 Minutes a Month," consists of 37 lessons of simple phrases, written in Norwegian with English translations and pronounced by native speakers. They are all aimed at the beginner level, but they will give you a sense of what the language sounds like and how it works. The second, newer program is called "Norwegian for Reading Comprehension." As the title indicates, this program focuses on reading for general understanding, rather than speaking or writing. Norwegian for Reading Comprehension shows you how the Norwegian language works and teaches you a strategy for breaking down sentences, paragraphs and passages piece by piece. Since there's so much variation in the Norwegian language, this program includes instruction on the two different forms of the written language as well as tips about reading older texts.

To try either of these programs, just sign into the "Members Login" section of www.sonsofnorway.com.

2013: MUNCH YEAR

Last year was a big news year for Edvard Munch: "The Scream" sold at an auction for a world-recording breaking $119.9 million to an American buyer; Norway continues to debate the location of the new proposed Munch Museum; then in August it was reported that Munch may have an American granddaughter. If all of that wasn't enough, 2013 is shaping up to be an even bigger year for the artist as a range of events and the most comprehensive Munch exhibitions ever assembled will be held to commemorate the 150th anniversary of Munch's birth on December 12.

The complete program of events for the year long jubilee are a collaborative effort between the National Gallery of Norway (Nasjonalgalleriet) and the Munch Museum and events will be centered around eight "Munch municipalities" in Norway. Each of the eight locations (Vågå, Fredrikstad, Løten, Oslo, Horten, Vestby, Kragerø and Moss) are connected to Munch and are places where he lived or worked or had familial or ancestral ties. The activities planned in the municipalities range from book launches, walking tours, documentary film premiers, concerts and exhibitions. A traveling exhibition, titled "Munch on Tour," showcases Edvard Munch's famous "Self-portrait with cigarette" (1895) and will make stops in seven cities in Norway. The anniversary exhibition "Munch 150" running from June 2 to Oct. 13, 2013 will not only be the most comprehensive of all of the year's exhibits, it is also the largest Munch exhibit ever assembled, boasting 220 paintings and 50 works on paper. The exhibition will be split among two venues, the National Gallery of Norway (works from 1882-1903) and the Munch Museum (works from 1904-1944).

ENRICH YOUR FUTURE

Sons of Norway is proud to announce the official launch of its newest online venture, called NorwayConnects.org. This new unique virtual community was designed to be a place where students, professionals and institutions of higher education can come together for the common good of building innovation in industry and providing opportunities for international exchange. Above all, this web portal will build bridges between North America and Norway.

We hope that you'll take a moment to visit this new web portal and share it with the young people in your family. Thanks to the various experiences offered by NorwayConnects.org, we believe it will become a valuable source of information and opportunity for young people throughout the Sons of Norway network.

Scholarships and Educational Opportunities

We understand that choosing a college and figuring out how to pay for it can be some of the most difficult decisions young adults face today. To make the process easier, NorwayConnects.org is building a comprehensive list of scholarships available to young people from all backgrounds. In addition, the site highlights a variety of educational institutions that offer Scandinavian studies programs as well as international exchange programs offered throughout North America and Norway.

Jobs

NorwayConnects.org also offers a couple of resources for recent graduates and young professionals who are looking for new employment opportunities. First, it allows young people to post their résumés and highlight their background and expertise for potential employers. Second, we are developing a job board where companies throughout North America and Norway can post employment and internship opportunities.

Financial Literacy

Another benefit of using NorwayConnects.org is that Sons of Norway has developed a series of articles for young people that educates them about a variety of finance-related topics, from tips on renting their first apartment to the importance of life insurance.

Events and Volunteerism

NorwayConnects.org recognizes the importance of social and volunteer events for young people. That's why the site includes sections where users can post and view both. Users can also search for volunteer opportunities within their community.

We hope you'll take a moment to visit this new web portal from Sons of Norway and then share it with anyone you think would benefit from it. Also, if you know of a company that would benefit from NorwayConnects.org's job posting opportunities, please contact the fraternal department at (800) 945-8851 and we'd be happy to reach out to them.

In the meantime, be sure to like us on Facebook or follow our Twitter feed for additional content, articles and news information related to the site.
