City Acts To Enforce Zoning By-Law

City of Dorval Legal Advisor, Roy C. Amaron in a report tabled at the council meeting last Friday night stated that council would be within their legal rights to enforce the zoning by-law with respect to the tavern which opened at 317 Dorval on December 15th last.

Consequent to this report, a motion was made by Alderman B. Goodfellow and passed unanimously which instructs City authorities to carry out the action required by the penalty clause in Dorval's zoning by-law. This clause states that if the establishment in question continues to operate 20 days after official notification that it is operating illegally, authorities will have the right to close the said establishment and take further court action if necessary. Official notification was given to the tavern operator in December and the 20-day deadline expired January 4.

An amendment to Ald. Good-fellow's motion made by Ald. Glen-cross which would have delayed action for two weeks, was defeated. The vote on the amendment was decided by a vote from Mayor Pratt, when the aldermen deadlocked the vote at 3-3. Rules of meeting procedure require that when a tie develops between the voting members of a meeting, the chairman is required to cast the deciding vote.

Q.L.B. CLOSES TAVERN

The Quebec Liquor Board Friday last closed the Tavern situated at 317 Dorval Avenue and it is understood that it will remain closed until such time as the Board has reviewed the results of their request for objection printed in the January 8 issue of the Montreal Gazette.

It is possible that this action was taken as a result of a letter written by the City of Dorval to the Board following their council meeting of Dec 22, and a letter written by the Mimdale Association regarding the same matter several days earlier.

Pro-Mayor of Dorval for the next 3 months will be Alderman A. Samson. He succeeds Alderman G.J. Glen-cross who has been pro-mayor for October, November and December. Mr. Samson is an alderman for the East Ward and is the proprietor of Dorval Motors Reg'd. on Lakeshore Drive.

The closing represents a complete reversal in the stand of the Quebec Liquor Board and would appear to be a cancellation of the permit issued to Mr. Marcel Charbonneau, proprietor of the Tavern. It would be expected that a decision on the matter will be handed down by the Quebec Liquor Board in approximately two weeks.

CITY COUNCIL NEWS & NOTES

A total of 72 new houses were built in Dorval during 1961 according to the annual building inspection report tabled at Friday night's council meeting. Out of a total estimated value of $4,286,454.00 for all building which took place in Dorval last year, $827,450.00 was estimated for residential use.

The highest individual categories which made up the $4 million figure was the Commercial establishments where a total of 19 permits were applied for with an estimated total of $1,439,770.00

In commenting on the report, City Manager, Rene A. LeBlanc stated that the total figure was almost twice the amount he had anticipated for the year but that it fell about $1 million short of the 1960 total.

First reading was given to a by-law at Friday night's Council meeting, which, if passed, will allow installation of lights for hockey and baseball at Surrey Gardens Park. First reading was also given to a by-law which will provide for the modernization of all civic Street Lighting including the installation of mercury-vapor lights in the commercial area of Lakeshore Rd.

Council is also anxiously awaiting the decision of the Federal Department of Transport on their request that some other location for the proposed building of garages be made. If there garages are erected where they are now planned, the green on the second hole of the Municipal Golf Course will be occupied. The Dorval Recreation Association presently rents the property on which the Golf Course is situated from the Dept. of Transport.

SNOW CLEARING A LA MODE

Several weeks ago, on the occasion of the first big snow storm which struck our area, Dorval City Council was in receipt of a letter from a Pointe Claire resident congratulating the City's Snow Clearing Crew on the excellent manner in which they cleared the snow from and the condition in which they prepared the surface of Lakeshore Rd. The Pointe Claire man also admired the speed with which they accomplished this work.

We would like to go on record as heartily agreeing with this man. Finding it necessary to travel throughout the length and breadth of Dorval, we have found that street conditions after storms are improved by our Dorval men with great speed. Having to travel on the streets of neighboring municipalities we have found that in comparison with Dorval, these municipalities run a very poor second. In fact, a driver need not take his eyes off the road to know that he is in Dorval, the improved road conditions clearly define the city limits.

mornings at Strathmore United Church, Dorval, commencing January 30th. This program includes one hour of exercises and a coffee break followed by discussions and demonstrations from guest speakers. A nursery school for children over two years of age is also provided by the 'Y'. 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock beginning January 30th an excellent course in dressmaking will be offered. Miss Dorothy Walsh, a graduate of the Fashion Arts Academy of Montreal will provide professional instruction and guidance in all phases of sewing, from aprons to tailored suits.

In cooperation with the Henry George School of Social Science the YMCA is offering a ten weeks study-discussion course in the fundamentals of economics. This course will deal with such topics as housing, taxation, unemployment and inflation and should stimulate thinking and discussion of persons who wish to participate in this type of informal education program. This series will begin on Tuesday, January 30th and will meet at the local 'Y' from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

For those adults who are now waiting patiently for spring weather to arrive the 'Y' is again planning to offer an eight weeks golf instruction clinic. This popular class will be held at Dorval Gardens School on Dawson Avenue in Dorval on Wednesday evenings starting February 14th. Instruction will deal with the fundamentals of grip, stance and swing and a qualified golf pro will be in charge of this class.

The adult Committee of the 'Y' also announced that if there is sufficient interest plans will be made to sponsor a ten weeks beginners bridge class. Persons who are interested in learning the fundamentals of this most popular of card games are encouraged to call the 'Y' and leave their name and phone number.

Program officials of the Lachine - Dorval Y M C A strongly urge all adults who wish to take part in informal education courses to register as early as possible since all classes will have a limited enrolment. Full information on registration and course fees is available by calling the 'Y' at MEIrose 7-2511.

In addition to the informal educational program the 'Y'

FOR GOOD PHOTOS LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT

What's the secret of good pictures?

The answer is simplicity. The best photos are easy to see, appreciate and understand.

How do you make a picture simple? Concentrate on your view-finder. Assume, for a moment, that you know nothing more about your subject beyond what your view-finder shows.

First thing you know, you'll be doing what artists always do—composing a picture. You'll find yourself looking for patterns, moving about for a better, clearer, less cluttered view. You'll prefer backgrounds that reveal rather than hide the main subject.

Composition, after all, is the trick of arranging a picture so that it tells its story in the simplest and most attractive way possible. And winter landscapes provide an opportunity second-to-none to brush up on techniques.

A shot of almost any landscape can have wide appeal, provided it's taken from an interesting angle. Hold the camera so that the focal point of interest will be just a bit off centre, and a line or mass will lead the eye gently into the scene. For example, you don't have to shoot a fence broadside, the angle from which you first happen to glimpse it. Moving about, you may find a more dramatic view from the last post. Here, the curve of the fence may ease your eye into the scene's depths—and provide a pleasing contrast with the stiff, snow-covered trees. Side lighting heightens the effect, creating pleasing patterns of light and shade and highlighting the texture of snow.

Don't try to get a wide-screen effect by including everything in the shot. Look at the landscape carefully, pick out the interesting points, and train your lens in that section. By using a selective eye, your scene will be twice as effective.

With a bit of imagination, your photos will take on extra sparkle and interest. For example, you might try photographing through a pattern of old grill-work, or you might spot a curving branch that frames a beautiful view. Seek new angles. Get in and look out, go up and look down, and you'll find picture subjects that you never knew existed.

Here's a tip: If there's an art museum nearby, pay it a visit and study the pictures. Note how the artist painted the light falling on the subject, note the unusual viewpoints selected for freshness.

Try to get some of these qualities into your own work.

JOHN GRANT H&S CARD PARTY

The John Grant High Home and School Association is holding a Scholarship Card Party, Thursday January 18, at 8:00 p.m., sharp in the school auditorium 275 - 36th Avenue, Lachine. Reservations for tickets can be made now by calling at Mrs. Eleanor Whyte, Melrose 7-4717.

To accommodate all who enjoy playing cards there will be Military Whist and Bridge with Mr. Alex McKellar on hand to arrange the tables. Besides prizes for Military Whist and Bridge local merchants have kindly donated many door prizes for lucky winners. Remember to bring your own cards.

Last year's card party enabled two students to continue their studies at college and the Home & School Association is hoping for a larger attendance this year to increase the sum to a more substantial amount. This is a worthy cause and everyone is invited to come out for an enjoyable evening of either Bridge or Military Whist and refreshments with friends.

In the picture above is the newly completed Wall for tennis practice and instruction. This Wall can be used from both sides and is made of cement blocks. The wall was financed by the members and their friends who each purchased a few blocks. It is hoped that during this coming season we will be able to enclose this tennis practice area.

COLLABORER OU CRITIQUER

Notre gouvernement instituait il y a quelque temps une Commission royale d'Enquête sur l'Education. Différents groupements étaient invités à présenter des mémoires résumant leurs griefs et leurs recommandations. Si on regarde la liste de ces associations, on voit que la Fédération provinciale des Unions de Familles est à peu près le seul mouvement qui représente vraiment les parents.

Considérant de la responsabilité inhérente à ce rôle, la Fédération demande la collaboration de toutes les Unions locales pour aider à la rédaction de ce mémoire qui pourra ainsi refléter l'opinion réelle des parents.

Voici ce que nous avons pensé faire ici à Dorval: Jeudi, le 11 janvier à 8:30 hres. p.m. à l'école Joubert, grande réunion de tous les parents de Dorval. Toute l'assistance sera divisée en une dizaine de comités qui étudieront chacun de leur côté un thème pouvant faire l'objet d'un grief ou d'une recommandation. Les secrétaires de chacun de ces comités remettront leur rapport à M. Burns qui les résumera à toute l'assistance qui pourra les discuter et les approuver ou les rejeter. Le résumé final de cette assemblée, qui sera réellement le reflet de l'opinion des parents de Dorval, sera envoyé à la Fédération Provinciale des Unions de Familles qui l'incorporera avec les rapports de toutes les autres Unions de Familles pour présenter le tout à la Commission royale d'

Enquête.

Nous avons tous, tant que nous sommes, une très grande facilité pour critiquer l'ouvrage de des autres alors que nous n'avons rien fait pour aider. Voici une occasion unique de collaborer à la réalisation d'un mémoire qui peut avoir de grandes répercussions dans tout notre système éducatif. Voilà notre chance de poser des actes constructifs! Faisons tout ce que nous avons le devoir de faire, ensuite, nous pourrions nous autoriser à critiquer et protester. Tous ceux qui refusent actuellement leur collaboration résignent en même temps leur droit de critiquer plus tard si tout ne va pas à leur goût!

Au travail! Jeudi soir le 11 janvier à l'école Joubert. Vos enfants profiteront demain de vos sacrifices d'aujourd'hui! Cessons de nous fier aux voisins, endossons nous mêmes nos responsabilités! La suggestion que tu peux nous apporter sera peut-être la meilleure de la soirée alors viens nous aider à aider nos enfants.

LACHINE GENERAL HANDLES MANY EMERGENCIES

Accidents know no barriers; they happen to the most careful. As a result hospitals must be prepared for any emergency.

Sandwiched as it is between a large industrial area, a growing population and miles of busy highways, Lachine General Hospital takes more than its share of the mishaps which strike at the oddest hours. Yet, like any well-organized operation it is adequately geared to accept the inevitable as well as the unexpected.

However, as the Lakeshore for which the hospital was originally built the hospital grows, so does the volume of its work. This volume varies with the seasons. Winter time with its icy streets and snowy piles is, perhaps, the busiest. In one winter's month, for example, as many as 1,500 people, young and old, will, it is forecast, attend the Lachine General's emergency department to be treated for cuts, broken limbs, battered heads, a hockey mishap, or just a fall on a slippery pavement.

To serve these cases in the emergency department there is on constant duty a staff surgeon, a graduate intern, and three experienced nurses. The hospital's medical staff looks forward to the day, not too far distant when, the hospital's vast rebuilding and extension program completed, this department will be enlarged to four times its present size.

Then, among other things, the hospital will have four instead of one treatment room, an emergency operating room, and a recovery room.

Recently some reorganization and changes to existing facilities were made, but there is still that block which means some must wait at peak periods.

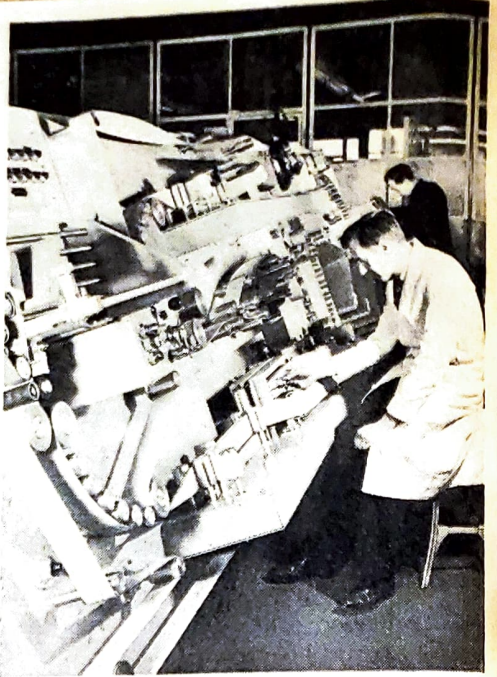

Says a member of the medical staff: "Ours is not an outdoor clinic for those with a rash or a touch of lumbago. It is what it was designed to be -- an emergency service for those who have no doctor or whose doctors may be temporarily unavailable."

"It is not, either, merely a first-aid station."

"We do all we can for those who come to us, but many fail to realize that their particular ailment is not an emergency; therefore they could deprive those who really need us for prompt treatment."

The hospital has seen the emergency department grow from a mere trickle to an average over a normal year which exceeds 1,000 every month.

As the area which the hospital covers grows, so will the need for its emergency department mushroom.

The facing machine shown here is part of a set of equipment for automatic mail handling, and is normally used in conjunction with segregating and grading machines made by the same company.

In addition to its primary task of letter facing, the machine also cancels the stamps, date stamps the letters and separates first and second class mail. The machine can handle between 40,000 and 16,000 letters an hour, depending on the size of the envelopes.

1961 has been an outstanding year for the Dorval Tennis Club and its members. We feel proud and rightly so for the progress we have made in the past year.

A few of the high lights have been:

- 6 Lakeshore Championships, 2 junior and 4 senior. More than any other Club on the Lakeshore.
- One of our junior girls Claudette Belisle reached the semi-finals of the Canadian Closed and the quarter-finals of the Canadian Opened Championships in Ottawa and Toronto.
- Miss Louise Viner who is now out of the junior tennis, has done exceptionally well in her first year in the senior tournaments reaching the semi-finals and finals in several events.

- Every Wednesday evening saw the better players of our club instructing beginners. Also for the first time we had professional instruction available.
 - The playing facilities were increased 100%.
 - The clubhouse had a warehouse - changing room added also a kitchen and storage area.
 - Parking facilities have been increased.
 - Enclosed play area with sand box for children.
 - Large two sided practice wall.
 - A keen executive for 1962.
- May we take this opportunity again in thanking all our members and local merchants for their help in making this rapid expansion programme possible.

A reminder to all those interested in playing tennis this coming season, applications will be accepted from the 16th of March. For further information on tennis call Mr. T. Finlay ME 1-8116; Mrs. P. Charlick ME 1-6371

In the picture above is the newly completed Wall for tennis practice and instruction. This Wall can be used from both sides and is made of cement blocks. The wall was financed by the members and their friends who each purchased a few blocks. It is hoped that during this coming season we will be able to enclose this tennis practice area.

LACHINE HIGH REPORTS

Now that the New Year is here and the festive season is over, things are back to normal at Lachine High School. Before the holidays our student body was entertained by the Variety Show. Singing, band music and a Beatnik satire of Shakespeare were included in the program. During the Christmas holidays, Bob Saunders won in his division in a wrestling match held in Montreal. The Chess club recently competed with other enthusiasts at a Christmas tournament. The Friday Nite Club held its first dance of the new year, welcoming everybody back.

A keen senior student, interested in current affairs, reports on our model Security Council.

There is trouble brewing in Lachine High School! The second plenary session of the first Annual Model Security Council will be held on MWednesday, January 17, but the Russian delegation threatens to walk out. The resolution to be discussed will try to solve the current Berlin problem. It calls for immediate negotiations between the four major powers, the Secretary General and Germany. If the success of the last session is any indication, all those participating will certainly benefit from it.

"On January 27, the Inter High School United Nations Club is sponsoring a model Security Council at Outremont High. A delegation of Lachine High students will represent the United Arab Republic. The resolutions to be debated are the Berlin situation and the expulsion of South Africa."

The Senior Hockey team, coached by Alan Fletcher and Mr. Anderson, has until Thursday January 4 played exhibition games. But they have started off on the right foot for they won their first game against Westhill High School. The final score was 4-2.

Everybody had a good time on the first ski trip of the season. Ski conditions are excellent at Mont Gabriel. Another trip is planned for January 13. The Ski Club will be an enthusiastic and well-supported one if the three bus loads on the last trip are a good indication of the interest.

The Singers visited C.F. C.F. television program "Like Young" before Christmas. They helped them celebrate with their carol selections. Now they are practising for their concert to be held in March.

Now that many universities insist upon the Scholastic Aptitude tests as part of their entrance requirements, most of the Senior students are sitting for them. Their first set will be written this Saturday, January 13. The remainder will be taken later on this year. Fortunately, the examination hall will be in our own school.

FOOD & DRUG ACT GUARDS CONSUMERS

In 1877 Canada's worst suspicions about some of the food crossing its store counters were confirmed. Certain low-priced teas, it was revealed, owed their dubious tastiness to dried leaves faced with Prussian blue, not to mention stalk, sand and floor sweepings. Some coffee turned out to be less than pure Brazilian. The roasted wheat, peas, beans and bread crumbs found in it had obviously been added closer to home. As for spices

These and other unappetizing discoveries came as a result of a new piece of federal legislation. The "Act to Impose License Duties on the Compounding of Spirits and to Prevent the Adulteration of Food, Drink and Drugs" had been passed in 1874 but it was three years later before the first analysts appointed to implement it turned in their first annual report. Of the 180 samples of varied foods that had BEEN EXAMINED: (# TURN TO BE ADULTERATED;

Eighty years later the Food and Drug Directorate of the Department of National Health and Welfare, developing from those modest beginnings, was examining 30,000 samples annually. Where each of the original analysts, working on a fee basis (not to exceed $2,000 a year) had been allowed up to $300 for equipment, millions of dollars had been invested in modern laboratories. There was a large central group in Ottawa and five regional units strategically located across the country.

Adulteration was still a problem but its frequency had been reduced to a point where, even among suspected samples, the frequency was 5% as against the original figure of 52%. Moreover, the modern analyst was working against a set of standards where the early examinations had had no starting point other than whether a product carried a threat to health or to life itself.

It was obvious, of course, from the kinds of adulteration discovered in the early days, that a standard was not imperative to its detection at that time. Today's adulteration is something else again. A pound of butter may be delicious in flavour and present no danger to health but, if it has been diluted with cheaper vegetable fats Food and Drug Directorate is interested. Butter must contain only milk fat. It is the Directorate's task to see that the consumer gets what he is led to believe he is buying.

To do this it is assisted by the fruits of modern science. In the Food Chemistry Section of the Ottawa laboratories is a spectrophotograph which can detect adulteration in very small quantities. In many instances if only an ounce of adulterant existed in thirty tons of an otherwise pure commodity, the spectrophotograph would catch it. Adulteration in lesser quantities would scarcely be profitable.

Today's Food and Drug Act covers a field as broad and intricate as modern living. It establishes standards, regulates packaging, labelling and advertising, controls the sale of remedies for certain designated diseases, specifies drugs to be sold only on prescription.

While Food and Drug inspectors, located from coast to coast, are the vigilant watchmen of the Act, its ever-increasing effectiveness has been rooted in the cooperation of the Canadian producer.

The latest version of Britain's "Cushioncraft" - which works on the same principle as the hovercraft, hovering some 15 inches above the ground or over water on a cushion of air - is demonstrated by the manufacturer, Britten-Norman, Ltd., at Bembridge Airport, Isle of Wight, England.

The "Cushioncraft" is powered by a Coventry Climax sports car engine giving up to 17 b.h.p. This drives a large compressor, which runs around the circumference of the vehicle, and twin rear-mounted propellers. Air is supplied from the compressor to single jet nozzles round the bottom edge of the machine to maintain the air cushion. The propellers provide forward and backward drive. The "Cushioncraft" weighs one ton and carries driver and two passengers in the cab.

It is claimed that the vehicle will offer many advantages in territories where roads are non-existent and costly to build and where rivers are seasonally unnavigable. The prototype is to be used for carrying bananas from plantations in the Southern Cameroons.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED
Mr. and Mrs. A. Westcott of Dorval, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eliese, to Mrs. Gerald Krenz of Regina; Sask., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Krenz of the South Shore.

young wife wants special attention.

Your doctor is the man to see about sudden unusual hunger urges. He can tell you whether the cravings are for foods your body really requires - the result of inadequate diet - or simply that "cater-to-me" impulse.

Do you usually awake feeling cheerful and ready for an active day...or are you one of the millions of women who suffers from morning sickness?

Morning discomfort usually disappears in the third month, when your body becomes accustomed to the changes of pregnancy.

During the morning sickness period, rest is all important. If you're feeling a nauseated, don't jump out of bed in the morning and try to "work it off".

Take it easy...move more slowly...wait to brush your teeth till after breakfast and do it gently. Let hubby get breakfast and leave the dishes and bed-making until a little later. But don't make the mistake of lying in bed all day.

Nine independent clinical studies conducted over a three-year period studied the effect of one prescription medication in tablet form--a combination of Vitamin B6 with a motion sickness preventive -- upon 1,458 women with morning sickness.

Called Bonadoxin, the medicine brought good to excellent relief to 1,286 (88.27%) of the women.

Many women also suffer backache during the late part of pregnancy. As the abdomen grows, general posture changes...pulling back muscles into different positions.

Backache can be avoided to some extent by wearing lowheeled shoes, which gives better balance. An abdominal support may also help. If backache is frequent, rest as much as possible.

Sleepiness is usual during the early part of pregnancy. Sleep and rest are nature's way of helping us feel refreshed. During the early months your body is getting accustomed to its changing condition--and you probably need extra sleep. As you get along, your body adjusts more easily and the sleepiness should disappear. You can help by keeping regular hours and taking a rest period during the day.

Finally, today there's no reason for the pregnant woman to feel she can't dress fashionably and comfortably.

It's easy to find clothes that are especially made for her, and if she makes her own clothes, many attractive patterns are available. Most important...avoid anything tight or binding around the waist.

Remember that your pregnancy is a family affair. The thinking and planning that mother and father share for their coming child - and their cooperation with the doctor - lay the foundation for good parenthood.

51-49 IT'S A BOY

If you're wondering what the new arrival will be, flip a coin. You won't be far from wrong...51.2% of all births are male.

During the nine crucial months of pregnancy, you can be at your best, even in the morning.

When the excitement of shopping for baby has worn off, don't neglect your outside interests.

Visits to relatives and friends, movies, bridge games, walks, reading and keeping up with the news - all these will keep you feeling your best.

It's a mistake to take advantage of your "condition" by staying around the house, hair unbrushed, wearing old slippers and a housecoat. If you keep yourself neat and well groomed, you'll be surprised to find how much the finest feelings improve.

Feeding or sewing for the baby can be lots of fun. And many young mothers-to-be enjoy spending time with friends who have small children helping to bathe and feed the baby, taking him for walks - learning some of the "ins-and-outs" of motherhood.

Some women tell about irrefragable cravings for certain foods during pregnancy. We've all heard the story of the sympathetic husband being aroused from a comfortable sleep and sent to the store for pickles and ice cream.

Well, these "yens" are not a necessary part of pregnancy. They may occur because the

A TIMELY REMINDER

Pregnant women are encouraged to aid and add to their communities, above and beyond their professional nursing services, by the National Institute of Dyeing.

The sign is on so well that the following week he can find the sign on his door and the sign is on his door on paper.

FOR PHOTOS WITH EXTRA APPEAL, FRAME YOUR SUBJECT

To pack "punch" into your pictures, try framing your subject.

You can take good pictures simply by exposing a roll of film. But add a dash of imagination, and your prints will take on an "extra something" that commands attention.

For example, landscapes provide some excellent photo possibilities at this time of year. You could have some reasonably attractive photos by merely stepping out of your car, setting your camera and shooting from where you are at the moment.

But, on the other hand, you could scout around. Perhaps you'll find two branches which frame a beautiful view. And you might decide to place a model between the branches, with his back to the camera so that the viewer is led into the scenery. Now the photo has been transformed from a routine shot of the countryside into something artistic.

By framing a landscape scene, your photo takes on a sense of depth, a "third-dimensional" effect. Framing's great advantage is that it provides emphasis. One feature or a group of features stands out unmistakably as an reason for the photo. A "framed" photo has a point — it means something.

Framing also draws interest for other reasons. For example, it gives the viewer a sense of completeness, a feeling that nothing more could be done to complete the picture.

Further, it focuses attention directly on the subject and prevents the viewer's attention from wandering. And framing makes it easier to produce a finished print of top-notch interest.

You can frame your picture with a tree, a shrub, an outcropping of rock. But you don't have to trek into the country for a frame. All you need is a doorway, a fence, a skyline, the pilings of a bridge, and you can try this trick with almost any subject.

Of Spots and Stains

Drycleaners are often asked if there isn't some single solvent that would be a universal spot-removal agent. Their answer has to be that there isn't, unfortunately. Besides, if there were a single solvent that would remove everything, where would they keep it? It would eat through its container.

Seriously, though, the National Institute of Drycleaning cautions against rash attempts at spot removal—either at home or anywhere else. All too often the unwary amateur botches the job so badly even the most skilled of spotters, using an array of tools, can't repair the damage.

The Institute's advice: brush the spot off lightly and get the garment to your drycleaner as soon as you can. Time has a way of making even temporary spots permanent.

The Institute explains there are so many different kinds of spots and stains and such a variety of fabrics, dyes and finishes that the resulting combination of possibilities is limitless. It takes a skilled professional to get the spots out satisfactorily.

Storage Is Answer To Crowded Closets

The great increase in the number of small family units living in apartments and small houses has helped the development of a new service many drycleaners offer—box storage.

This is a plan for the storage of winter things in the drycleaner's vault through the summer months when limited closet space at home is being used for summer things. There just isn't enough storage space in most homes for all the clothes people need these days.

The box storage idea, says the National Institute of Drycleaning, was conceived as an answer to the general feeling that putting clothes in a storage vault for the season was an expensive luxury. When you use box storage, you are invited to cram all the clothes you want to in a big box your cleaner provides and let him store it for you—all for an inexpensive fee.

At the end of the season it is all returned to the owner cleaned and pressed and ready to wear. During the storage period the clothes are moth-free, and insured. Most cleaners will not accept furs for box storage. The insurance may have to be increased if the valuation of the clothing in the box exceeds a certain amount. Otherwise, it is a simple and convenient method of getting off-season clothing out of the closets at home.

General Motors tilt cab trucks are up to 33 inches shorter than conventional trucks and can haul up to 10 times their own weight. One model weighs only 8,875 lbs.
