

Siren's Lament

Late at night
Your ship's bell awakes me
I sing you my song cross the waves

You row your boat over
Put your arms out to hold me
Your eyes have me locked in their gaze

And all I can dream of
Is sharing your world
But could I ever give up the sea?

Could I give up my treasure
Could I give up my song
It's so tempting to do it for you

Wish I could keep you
But you'd only drown
And this mermaid's too old to fall in love
Just a kiss before I dive back down
