Welcome.

Cardamom seeks to explore what Indian food and culture have done for centuries—take the best from outside influences and create something new, but distinctly Indian. Indian cuisine has been influenced by a host of cultures and Indian chefs and home cooks have a long history of taking outside flavors and cooking techniques, and combining them with their native spices. India is a vast country and very diverse. We designed our menu to reflect this diversity, and then to take it a step further by adding our own Western-influenced dishes.

Why Fresh Indian?

fresh ingredients—like locally grown produce, freshly roasted & ground spices fresh cooking—our chefs are cooking your food to order—really!

more fresh produce on your plate—from fresh green salads to fresh-squeezed juice

fresh new dishes—East-meets-West creations

We cannot guarantee that any dish is completely allergen-free. Please ask us if you have special restrictions.

what is curry?

“Curry” is a term that is used broadly to refer to nearly any spiced, sauce-based dish; it is thought to be derived from the word kari in Classical Tamil, which means “sauce.” There are as many variations on the meaning of “curry” and the sauces as there are cooks of Indian cuisine. “Curry leaf” is a spice used in some Indian dishes, but this is a separate meaning of the word “curry.” Our curries span a range of popular traditional Indian dishes and Anglo adaptations.

wine & beer

We offer bottled and canned beer and wine to go!

Our selections have been carefully chosen to pair
with Indian food—ask for our current list.

wine and Indian food

Finding a wine to stand up to the aggressive flavors of Indian food can be tricky, but we are up to the task! Because all our dishes, regardless of heat level, feature a blend of spices, the traditional meat/wine pairings are not relevant. Most sommeliers will agree, best for Indian foods are sparkling wines and crisp dry or aromatic whites. If you prefer red, stick to a fruity red and avoid high-tannic reds that will fight with the spices. We have tasted dozens upon dozens of wines with our foods and selected only those that will pair nicely with a wide range of dishes. Try a wine you might not normally order—you might be surprised! We feel confident that you'll find every wine we've listed an excellent complement to our food.
