3 RETAIL TIPS TO ATTRACT AND KEEP CUSTOMERS!

• WINDOWS: Your storefront windows are the face of your business. Keep them uncluttered, unobstructed and illuminated during evening hours. Keep your business looking welcoming and safe.
• PRODUCTS: Offer products people in the neighborhood need and want. Don’t keep buying products that sit on your shelves for months. Ask your customers what products they would like to buy.
• COMMUNICATION: Ask your customers if you can send them information about your sales and events on Central Avenue and always welcome their feedback on your business. Be sure to follow-up on customer feedback because it lets your customers know they are appreciated.

PLANTING TREES TO MAKE THE CORRIDOR GREEN AND BEAUTIFUL

CAHD will continue efforts to create a green corridor by facilitating the planting of additional well and potted trees. We have already had to replace several of the 28 trees planted in the empty wells in July due to deliberate damaged or lack of water. We contracted CRCD Enterprises, Inc. to make sure the trees are watered at least 1 time per week for the next 2 years while their roots are being established.

The Love & Water Me sign above is being placed on each new tree to remind EVERYONE to watch out for the trees and help to water them as needed. If you would like a planted or potted tree in front of your building just ask an Ambassador!

OUR HISTORIC BRAND!

When the concept of creating the Central Avenue Historic District (CAHD) was initiated in 2014 there was no question that the focus of business development efforts had to be on the historic significance of Central Avenue’s urban entrepreneurship, music legends and the renown distinction for being the birthplace of the African American community in the City of Los Angeles.

The formation committee for CAHD knew that many would be attracted to the Corridor to reminisce and experience renditions of Central Avenue’s heydays in the 1930s and 40s and to revisit the many historic sites. Additionally, the formation committee wanted to be sure to highlight the entrepreneurs of today that have worked to make Central Avenue a thriving business district in the heart of South Los Angeles.

Our brand development strategy, in partnership with our Ambassador and Clean Streets Programs, is centered on the promotion of Central Avenue’s rich history which is working to attract more visitors, new businesses and development on the Corridor. Our new street light banners will highlight Central Avenue’s history and promote the new business ventures on the Corridor.

Last July, the 23rd Annual Central Avenue Jazz Festival sponsored by The New 9th Council District, Coalition for Responsible Community Development, Concerned Citizens of South Central Los Angeles and the Department of Cultural Affairs brought thousands of visitors to Central Avenue to hear jazz, blues, Latin, R&B and spoken word artist from around the world. Our Central Avenue businesses along the stretch of the Jazz Festival sold out of products, welcomed new customers and enjoyed the opportunity to brand their new business offerings on Central Avenue!

In partnership with the Jazz Festival, CAHD launched its Second Annual Historic Tour of 20 sites on and around Central Avenue and, for the first time, premiered a play presentation, “Billie! Backstage with Lady Day” which was produced by A Place Called Home at their new Bridge Theatre on Central Avenue! There were tour busses running throughout the community during both days of the festival and Billie! ran for two shows each day. CAHD looks forward to facilitating our Historic Tour and a play presentation during the 2019 Jazz Festival and encourage all Central Avenue businesses to jump on board and get ready to engage visitors and promote your products and services.
