

Coralee Lord

As long as I can remember I have been creating. I lose myself in a project so I try not to start something when time is limited. I work mostly in acrylics but dabble in anything that catches my fancy at the time.