D.R. KENNEDY, CHAIRMAN, LACHINE GENERAL DEFICIT CAMPAIGN, presents the hospital trophy to John Henderson, skip of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Team which won by one point. Other members of the team are Mrs. Murray Reid, lead; H. Elliott and Mrs. J. Henderson.

RUNNERS UP FOR THE HOSPITAL TROPHY was the Lachine Lawn Bowling Club team of Mrs. H. Taylor, lead; Mr. J. Taylor, Mrs. W. Labierster and Mr. MacCraig, skip.

LACHINE GENERAL HOSPITAL TROPHY WON BY SINGLE POINT

Lachine General Hospital's lawn bowling trophy, the biggest day event in the sport in Canada, has gone to Westmount Lawn Bowling Club for the second straight year.

Presenting the award to John Henderson, skip of the winning team Sunday night, D. R. Kennedy, chairman of the hospital's current deficit campaign, paid glowing tribute to the host club, Lachine Lawn Bowling Club for its magnificent efforts in aiding the hospital since the trophy was first put up for competition 18 years ago.

During that time, he said, the club had given constant assistance to the hospital which was appreciated by board of management and staff alike.

He commiserated with the Lachine Lawn Bowling Club, which was edged out of first place by one point.

Winning team was Mrs. Murray Reid, lead; Mr. H. Elliott, Mrs. J. Henderson and Mr. J. Henderson, skip.

Lachine Lawn Bowling club, the second placed team, was Mrs. H. Taylor, lead; Mr. J. Taylor, Mrs. W. Labierster, and Mr. MacCraig, skip.

The contest attracted 52 rinks from Quebec and Ontario and a total of 240 bowlers. Individual prizes were presented by E. A. Franklin, president of the Quebec Lawn Bowling Association, to 156 individual players with high scores.

So large was the entry that two rinks were used - Lachine and the nearby Riverside Lawn Bowling Club. At the former, Mr. Kennedy bowled the first ball after being introduced by the club president, Tom Hunter, and at Riverside, L. A. Seston, QC, a member of the hospital's board of management, officiated with the club president, Alec Buchan.

Mayor Answers Aldermens' Statements

Mayor John Pratt set the record straight on the differences between special and public council meetings by correcting Ald. G. Glencross and answering his letter published in last week's Dorval-Dixie Reporter.

In addition, the Mayor answered Alderman A. Samson for a remark attributed to him in an interview with a Montreal newspaperman.

Answering Ald. Samson first, the Mayor referred to the Montreal report quoting Mr. Samson as saying that the Mayor had "blown his top" at a recent council meeting because he had "lost the Federal election".

"Had I won, Mr. Samson, I would still have blown my top as you so aptly put it and I will continue to blow my top so long as this or

MAYOR WANTS MORE PRESSURE FROM QUE. OVER POLLUTION

More support and less hindrance should be given to the Quebec Water Purification Board, Mayor John Pratt told aldermen at Monday's meeting of City Council.

He made the statement after reading a letter from St. John, Quebec, seeking Dorval's support on three motions it seeks to put forward at a forthcoming meeting of the Union of Municipalities of Quebec.

The motion he referred to recommended that the Board be asked to put less pressure on municipalities over water sewage systems.

"I'm for more pressure," said the Mayor, "not less."

Many municipalities outside Quebec had seen their way clear to ease the pollution question and had not found the cost exorbitant.

True, he said, the cost is high, but it is not exorbitant. He felt that the Federal Government should be prevailed upon to extend the time limit for its promise of one-sixth of the cost, that the province should pay one-third instead of one sixth, and the remainder should be paid by the municipality.

The Mayor also had something to say about another motion giving municipalities greater power in the exercise of both the Motor Vehicle Act and the Criminal Code. It sought to get more power for municipalities in the collection of fines for highway offences.

The motion was passed to the legal adviser after the Mayor had said that municipalities should not operate

CITY'S LAWYER CHANGED IN NOEL CASE

A motion to have former city lawyer Guy Payer removed from the case of A. R. Noel was presented to Council by Alderman Macdonald. There was no discussion on the motion which was carried on a vote of four to two. Aldermen Godfellow and Glencross voted against.

The motion asked that Mr. Payer be instructed to cease to act as attorney for the City of Dorval insofar as its two cases concerning A. R. Noel are concerned. Mr. Payer was further requested to provide at the Dorval City Hall all documents in his possession respecting the said cases.

It was also moved that F. Michael Rioux of Foster, Watt, Legott and Colby, be appointed as attorney for the city to handle these cases.

speed traps to make money, as some were doing. Fines for traffic offences, he said, should not be regarded as revenue.

Residents Retain Lawyer

In Lengthy Tax Dispute

A delegation of homeowners from Westwood and Thorncrest avenues, in dispute with Dorval over excess charges for local improvements billed to them for the past eight years, took legal counsel with them to Monday's meeting of city council.

Lawyer Lawrence Poitras outlined the history of the dispute which began with charges made to the 84 homeowners back in 1954.

By-law 504, he claimed, had been prepared and given first reading by the previous council. Mr. Poitras further stated that the present council had given second and third reading to the by-law last September but it had not been sent to Quebec for ratification. Over a year ago promises were made that cheques had been made out and were in the mail. His clients were still awaiting those cheques.

Furthermore, he alleged, promises had been made at meetings in 1960 and last year that the matter had been settled. Notwithstanding this, his clients had again been billed with the tax, plus interest.

Mr. Rene LeBlanc, city manager, denied that the promise of refund cheques had been made, whereupon Mr. Poitras promised to supply council with the names of those who had called City Hall and had been given the promise. Ald. Gordon Glencross said motions were to be read that night which, if accepted by Quebec, would finally close the matter. He pointed out that the wording of By-law 504 was believed to be unacceptable to Quebec authorities. Although it had never gone to the province talks had been held about it.

Ald. Glencross stated that he could not promise refunds, but said the amounts to be charged over the remaining number of years would be cut accordingly so that the true amount only would be paid.

Later in the meeting, two by-laws, 562 and 563, were passed unanimously in first reading by council.

Sources Road To See End Of Whistling

The Federal Board of Transport Commissioners has approved a Dorval City Council by-law prohibiting the sounding of whistles by the railroad companies in the vicinity of Sources road.

A spokesman at City Hall said an order to this effect has been posted and the noise should cease soon.

JOHN PRATT COMMENTS:

WORK FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS

The rather interesting, if belated, idea of requiring people on unemployment relief to work for their money, was discussed at the recent conference of provincial premiers in British Columbia. This idea is by no means new and, according to a report last March by the North American Newspaper Alliance, it had some very interesting results when it was tried out by the State of Washington.

"Most people don't really want something for nothing." This conclusion may be old stuff to psychiatrists, but it seems to be startling many critics of Washington's State's comparatively generous welfare benefits.

Under a new state law, able-bodied men receiving welfare checks may be required to 'work off' the benefits on brush-cutting and clean-up crews. And the response has been startling.

"The remarkable thing has been that these fellows have been glad to go to work," says C. E. Stanton, who heads the state welfare office in Pierce County.

"The vast majority of those on public assistance are proving they aren't lazy freeloaders - that they really want to put in a day's work for a day's pay," he contends.

In Pierce County, which has pioneered the work program in the state, about 30 men a day have been showing up for the work detail. Of more than 250 men directed to report during the past month, only 35 didn't show up or present a valid excuse.

None of the 35 has since applied for further welfare, and Stanton believes many of them may have moved or found regular jobs.

Stanton said the same results are being reported by other counties around the state which are embarking on the work programs.

In Pierce County, the welfare work crews are being used by the city of Tacoma, two small towns, the national guard camp, a school district and the state park department. Crew members are credited with the 'going rate' for laborers and work as many days as it takes to match their benefits for the prior month.

The work program "as authorized by the last Legislature, which expected the specter of work to frighten many idlers off welfare rolls.

Stanton said it is impossible thus far to calculate whether the state saved money. He believes there has been some saving, but doubts that it is a substantial amount.

But even if no money has been saved, Stanton believes the program has proved its worth.

"It has been good for the men, and it has resulted in completion of a lot of cleanup projects which otherwise wouldn't have even been started."

The local agencies have been careful to use welfare crews for jobs which otherwise wouldn't get done - not to a void hiring regular employees. And the program thus far has had the support of labor unions.

Officials of the local agencies using the elfare crews have been uniformly impressed by the quantity and quality of the work turned out by the men.

This has been surprising to many, Stanton notes, because the members of welfare crews lack the usual incentives to do a good job.

Stanton readily admits there are exceptions to this general attitude, but says the exceptions have been rare. "And there are goldbricks among those of us who hold steady jobs, don't forget," he points out."

IN REPLY TO YOURS...

Alderman Gordon Glencross, whose letter was given prominence in this space last week, is following a familiar pattern by blaming somebody else and criticizing this newspaper for what he terms, in effect, biased reporting.

The truth is that Mr. Glencross and some other members of council have been less than brilliant in their handling of the water pollution problem and other matters, notably the re-zoning by-law. Thus, reports of their deliberations are proving poor publicity.

We deny his charge of bias, as no doubt he expected we would, and claim equal rights with him in criticizing in editorial comment where criticism is due, however irksome it may be to Mr. Glencross or any other member of council.

Mr. Glencross recites, chapter and verse, a series of by-laws passed by another council in connection with certain overpaid improvement taxes, but conveniently forgets to refer to the effective answer he was given by former alderman G. Goodale last week in open council meeting.

The alderman, whom we admire as a person, admits to the human failure of fallibility. He should, therefore, reconsider his criticisms by reading again reports of past council meetings. He will, we are sure, being a fair-minded man, find that his voice in debates has been recorded faithfully, together with those of his colleagues.

On the contentious closure question, he may recall that Ald. Milson, whose motion caused the storm, apologized for his action when prompted to do so by the Mayor.

It is unfortunate that so much heat has been generated during recent council meetings. Much of it has been due to the failure by council to act. The voices against them have been many and strong. One alderman at least, Ald. John Macdonald, has listened with sympathy and understanding. It seems to those on the opposite side of the fence that the rest are showing a noticeable lack of foresight.

Council is by no means united in its desire, for example, to build a link to Dixie Island for the sewage disposal plant. Ald. Macdonald, in addition to the Mayor, is against it. So, too, it would seem, is Ald. R. Rock, the riding's elected representative at Ottawa.

Messrs. Goodfellow and Milson think the city can afford the project; Mr. Samson and Mr. Raymond think it costly, while, in addition, Mr. Raymond, apparently, went along with the majority in voting for a causeway merely to be nice, while having serious doubts concerning the cost.

We would question Mr. Glencross on one more point. He refers to the action being taken on the filtration plant and on unspecified road works. We would remind him that the former was on the drawing boards and plans established to revamp Dorval avenue long before he even considered becoming an independent alderman.

AT LAST, A LITTLE RECOGNITION

It would seem that Quebec is about to take some positive action on water pollution. If it does, the Lakeshore can thank Mayor John Pratt for bringing the matter to a head.

On Sept 7 Mrs. Claire Kirkland-Casgrain, deputy at Quebec for Jacques-Cartier, will bring together the Island's municipal representatives to a meeting in Lachine City Hall, for a discussion on the whole vexed problem. But don't expect miracles. Expect, however, some tangible recognition of a problem which has already got out of hand.

The issue is a serious one affecting the health of thousands of people. If it is not resolved there could be some dangerous side effects.

It is to be hoped that politics will be kept out of it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,
 Your correspondent, Alderman Gordon Glencross, is mistaken in his assumption that the Dorval Council Meeting of July 23rd, was a SPECIAL MEETING, in spite of what he believes to be in the records. It was merely an adjourned General Meeting, with a refusal to support Alderman Macdonald's motion to allow the public to speak.

If Alderman Glencross would properly raise this point in Council, rather than in letters to the editor, the matter could be cleared up by a simple reference to the law as set forth in the Cities and Towns Act.

If any of your readers, or any aldermen for that matter, wish to check this point, I refer them to the Cities and Towns Act (1961 edition) on the index page 855 under the listing "Special meeting". This index would refer them to Articles 350 and 352 which appear on pages 196 and 197, as follows:

350. The mayor may call a special sitting of the council whenever he deems proper, upon verbal or written intimation from the mayor to the clerk of the municipality. The latter shall thereupon issue a notice of meeting summarily specifying the business to be transacted at such sitting, and shall cause a copy of such notice to be served or sent by registered mail to every member, at his domicile or place of business, at least two days prior to such sitting. The mailing of a registered notice two clear days before such sitting shall be deemed equivalent to service of such notice.

352. At such special sittings, no business but that specified in the notice shall be considered or disposed of, save if all the members of the council are then present and consent thereto.

WINNER OF THE 1962 Water Safety Campaign, sponsored by the Lakeshore YMCA and CFOX is Alan Gustaf, a nine-year-old student at Dorval Gardens School who lives at 804 Dawson ave., Dorval. Presenting the award, a $100.00 education bond, is Gard Sinclair, assisted by Glen Gray of the Lakeshore YMCA. The young folk on the Lakeshore were asked to answer water safety questions which were given out to all the Lakeshore swimming pools in the form of a brochure which included booklets and hints on artificial respiration and water safety.

LACHINE GENERAL SEEKING MORE VOLUNTEER CANVASSERS

Lachine General Hospital, which opens its $110,000 deficit campaign August 26, is in urgent need of canvassers in all areas.

D. R. Kennedy, chairman of the campaign committee, has issued an appeal for volunteer door-to-door callers, asking all those who can spare their time to call Mrs. R. Roffey at the Lachine General, phone number 637-1161.

In calling for assistance, Mr. Kennedy points out that the campaign, which ends Sept. 6, aims to wipe out deficits accumulated up to 1961, when the Quebec Hospital Insurance Act came into effect.

"Lachine General Hospital," he said, "has been serving our community for many years. This campaign is directed at all our friends, including those who have benefited from the hospital's services in the past and those who may be using them in future."

Volunteer canvassers, he added, would be doing the hospital a signal favor by helping in any way they can.

DRA SPONSORS INTER-POOL SWIMMING MEET

The Dorval Recreation Association's inter-pool competition will take place this Saturday at 1 p.m. at Ballantyne Park Pool.

Competition in the 45 events is expected to be keen as swimmers and divers from the three pools - Walter's Surrey Gardens and Ballantyne - vie for the inter-pool trophy.

Following the meet the DRA will choose a team to represent Dorval in the annual Lakeshore Swimming Meet to be held at the Beaconsfield Pool on August 25.

The three pools have had extensive swim team training periods this season and pool managers report that interest is high amongst the contestants.

Chief referee for the Saturday competition will be Bob Smith, who has been instrumental in promoting competitive swimming in Dorval. Frank Pougnet, another swimming enthusiast, will handle the complicated announcing for the meet.

A record turn-out of spectators is expected, according to DRA president Gordon Kerr. Limited seating will be available on a first come, first served basis, but Mr. Kerr explained that spectators may bring deck chairs for use in the pool area.

With the peak season for summer travel on hand, every week-end marks up more and more deaths and accidents on our highways. The newspaper regularly have comments from police chiefs on pedestrian, cyclist and motorist safety habits with no apparent affect.

An article on how "air rules", if applied to road safety could cut road accident tolls, caught my eye. According to the writer, with air transport still considered a risky business, aviation had to set up such an effective set of safety rules and enforce them that the truth is air travel mile formile is far safer than the most popular "by car" mode of travel.

The two principal areas where improvement could come, is in the aircraft's use of a log book where the mechanical history is recorded and overhaul and replacement parts must correspond with the maintenance manual lists supplied by the builder. The manual lists every part and specifies the flying life of each part. Each year the log is inspected by competent authorities.

The drivers of air vehicles are checked as often, and as thoroughly. The private pilot taking a medical once a year and the professional pilot two to four a year.

These rules would certainly take a lot of cars and drivers off the road, but it would also assure that a lot of people would be alive Labor Week-end who otherwise may not be. It's worth considering.

"The Happy Tones" of Harmony Inc. are making Dorval their headquarters for the summer months. They are meeting at St. Mark's Church hall every Monday evening this month at 8 p.m. and would welcome any women, who enjoy singing, to join them.

Mrs. Anne Grace at 631-8416 or Mrs. Dorothy Pougnet at 631-0515 can supply additional information.

These women meet regularly all year around to share their love of harmony. It is not necessary to read music to belong to this group.

Like many of you, I do my housework listening to the radio. It's always pleasant to hear the name of a friend announced as a winner of one of the daily gifts offered on day-time programs. Our congratulations to Mrs. Eveline Michelson, of Thoracrest ave., who we heard chatting with Len Rockcliffe of C.J.A.D.

I wonder how many of the newcomers to Dorval know about the vegetable market held outdoors on Notre Dame street at 18th avenue in Lachine. I remembered the market, from my childhood days in Lachine, and it lived up to the memories when I finally revisited it recently. The locally grown fruit and vegetables are displayed by the farmer and his family. The freshness of the goods in this real old time setting makes the trip worth the effort.

Dorval Yachtsman Sweeps The Board In Dinghy Events

Bruce Kirby, of 160, Dorval avenue, is undisputed king of Canada's dinghy yachtsmen. In a boat he designed himself Kirby, Canada's representative in the 1960 Olympics, swept the board in the Canadian Dinghy Association's regatta on Lake St. Louis, capturing all four trophies in the week-long event which ended over the weekend.

In the first race Kirby, of Pointe Claire Yacht Club and formerly of the St. Lawrence Yacht Club, took the R.C. Stephenson trophy with ease. He won the Harvey Bougard trophy on a disqualification after losing out by a point. Then he took the C.W. Bourke Memorial Cup and, finally, the Viscount Alexander Trophy for a total of 10,676 points.

Fifty yachtsmen took part in the regatta.

In past years he has been runner-up in the aggregate five times, besides winning individual awards on many occasions.

Kirby has been designing his own boats in this class for a number of years.

Nearest to Kirby in the Viscount Alexander Event was Mary McLaughlin of Toronto, winner of the trophy last year.

Judging of the craft display of the Dorval parks program will take place next Tuesday at 2 pm in the shopping centre. The parks projects this year will feature scale models of marinas or dockages which will be on display in Morgan's north window from Monday to Wednesday of next week.

Judges of this annual craft contest will be members of the Board of Parks and Recreation.

Today, Thursday, the Inter-City track and field meet was held in Valois Park, Pointe Claire. Children from Beaconsfield, Pointe Claire, St. Ann's, Pincourt and Dorval participated.

Park officials estimated that more than 350 Dorval youngsters took part in the day-long program.

No Easy Answers Student Group Finds

The disarmament resolution passed in amended form by the final session of the United Nations model assembly at Macdonald College, Saturday, pin-pointed the lesson, "No easy answers to world problems," learned by the high school students taking part in the week-long seminar sponsored by the United Nations Association.

Although each of the student delegations representing 27 countries spoke in favor of disarmament, there were several tense moments when the resolution seemed doomed and the final vote was split, 14 in favor, two against with 11 abstentions.

The model assembly, which was the climax of a week of bi-lingual lectures, discussions and study, was conducted with dignity. Maurice Heroux, of the UN division of the Department of External Affairs, who was an adviser, said the convincing arguments presented by the students revealed the extent of their progress in learning the points of view of other countries.

When the seminar began, he said, many were not happy with their assignment to delegations of some foreign countries. This required extra research and study to find arguments to support that country's point of view.

For example, in the assembly, the spokesman for the United Kingdom delegation was a French-Canadian boy; a Jewish girl student found herself defending the foreign policy of the United Arab Republic.

The seminar staff, which included teachers, senior students, discussion leaders and counsellors, all said those taking part displayed remarkable enthusiasm and energy. The discussion periods following each lecture sparked many questions.

Besides studying, the students played their roles well. Between scheduled program sessions they arranged hurried conferences, caucuses, informal talks between various groups and hammered out statements and compromise agreements.

There was active lobbying. The US delegation staged a "diplomatic cocktail" party with formal invitations, a receiving line and all the trimmings. Many of the "foreign" guests appeared in the native costumes of the countries they represented.

Mrs. A.D. Grieve, vice-president of the UNA, Montreal Branch and Mr. A. Beaulieu, president of the Ville Marie Chapter, who were co-chairmen of the seminar, said its success in stimulating the participants interest in world affairs was only part of the story. As each student reports back to the school he or she represents as well as to the organization which paid the $50 registration and accommodation fee, it is hoped the results will be further stimulation of public interest in the affairs of the UN.

MAYOR CONFERS WITH COLLEAGUES

PLASTIC BAGS STILL MENACE AFTER REPEATED WARNINGS

The plastic bag that was a danger last year is still a danger this year, and will continue to be one for many years to come. No amount of safety education will change this fact, just as it can't take the poison out of furniture polish or the scalding property out of boiling water.

The facts are simple. Plastic film is air-tight. The very thin kind has the added ability to attract static electricity, making it cling to the face. These facts, put together, spell suffocation if the fabric is misused.

After all the warnings by safety groups in Canada over the years, it is difficult to understand how a parent could carelessly put a used dry-cleaning bag in a crib, carriage or playpen. It is easier to see the possibility of a child finding one in a garbage tin or a drawer, and trying it on. But of the eight children who have died since the beginning of the year, six had plastic right in their cribs or carriages, used as mattress covers. Sheets which had covered the plastic were, in every case, pulled away to expose it.

The National Safety League of Canada warns parents again that thin plastic in the crib, in the carriage or playpen, or in the house at all, is a suffocation threat to their children.

Hot Dogs, Cool Cucumbers Are Tasty Summer Fare

With three-quarters of the summer behind us, homemakers reactions are varied. On only one point do they agree. The lack of summer weather.

"I had planned on an outdoor summer with at least a meal a day on the barbecue," sighed one mother of four and instead she claims she's been lucky to have a dinner a week cooked in the garden.

"Out doors or indoors it's the same to me," said another, "but those hot dogs -- they've become a daily ritual with my boys. I wish someone could dream up a new way to serve frankfurters."

A quick check revealed that while the youngsters never seem to tire of hot dogs -- one Guide company even served them with beans for its Christmas party -- the adults are beginning to tire of franks in a bun.

For a change of pace try these dressed up recipes that even mom and dad will go for.

CHEESE-DOG ROLLS. Put through the grinder 1 pound frankfurters. 1/2 pound cheddar cheese, preferably the old variety; 1 medium onion, 2 pimentos and 1/2 cup ripe olives. Mix well with 1 tin (8 ounces) tomato sauce. Season to taste with mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Split and fill 12 hard rolls; wrap in foil and bake in a slow oven about 300 degrees for half an hour. Serve hot with a tossed salad.

TOMATO CASSEROLE. Butter a 1 1/2 quart casserole and mix in it 1 can (20 ounces) tomatoes; 6 franks cut in bite size pieces, and 1 cup of soft bread crumbs. Season with salt, pepper and sugar. Sprinkle 1 cup of buttered breadcrumbs on top and bake in a 4-- degree oven for 30 minutes or until the top is browned. Serves 4. Add some garden fresh green waxbeans me. This was in November of 1959. I invited them to attend the next City Council meeting and to air their grievances. This they did, with the result that at the direction of the Mayor a committee of interested citizens was formed with myself designated to act as liaison between them and the City Council.

 Getting to the bottom of this problem was the most frustrating experience I have ever had. It was only after a directive was given by the Mayor to the Administrative Assistant to the City Manager that any progress was made. The City Manager was at that time away on vacation.

It was obvious that Local Improvement Taxes charged against properties on these two streets were very much out of line when compared to taxes for similar areas throughout the City. It was then discovered that property owners on Westwood ave. had been charged with the installation of a 42" sewer pipe, and on Thorncrest ave. with a 24" sewer pipe instead of the normal 12" size. These larger pipes had been installed in order to service a portion of the Airport and therefore the cost above the normal 12" size should have been paid for by the taxpayers at large.

On 30th September 1960, at a regular meeting of the City Council, I gave notice of motion to enable preparation of a By-law to rectify these errors. This By-law subsequently became identified as By-law No. 504, and it was prepared by the Legal Adviser after there had been consultations with the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs in Quebec, whose advice had been sought regarding procedure to be followed in making the necessary financial adjustments.

This By-law was not presented to the City Council until 17th March 1961 for its first reading. The majority of the members of that Council were defeated in the 1st April 1961 election, and the problem then became the responsibility of the present Council. Second and third readings of By-law No. 504 were given on 15th September 1961. I do not know what reason the present Council offers for its long delay in giving second and third readings to this By-law. However, the fact remains that this By-law still has not been forwarded to Quebec for ratification.

In closing it is to be hoped that this unfortunate situation will be cleared up shortly to the satisfaction of the taxpayers concerned.

 1/2 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 3/4 cup thick sour cream
