

When working with local refugee and immigrant resettlement agencies, we realized a great necessity:

Refugees and immigrants, and their families need access to continued focused services after the initial resettlement period.

Humanitarian Hands Charities has accepted the opportunity to fill this void. Our objective: to establish a core assistance center for the refugee and immigrant community that will guide them and improve their life skills becoming productive citizens.

Our organization will provide the long-term assistance to empower these refugees and immigrants with successful social, cultural, and educational integration into the United States.

Find out more about our mission and how you can help us accomplish these goals.

Humanitarian Hands Charities (formerly known as Humanitarian Hands Foundation) is a 501(c)(3) organization based in Dallas, Texas that empowers individuals to create a hopeful, sustainable future for themselves and their communities in the Dallas area and across Africa.

In response to the growing number of orphans in Uganda, Ray and Mary Christopher founded Humanitarian Hands Charities in 2006 to provide housing, healthcare, quality education, job skills, and life skills training to impact the impoverished families in Africa and the vulnerable refugees and immigrants in the Dallas area.
