Wisdom Circles

Worldwide

Dear Friend of the Earth,

Looking at life on Earth, we can see that humans are currently too negative, intense, cunning and competitive to collaborate to cocreate a sustainable planet.

We think people need to gain inner-peace and more wisdom to sustain higher consciousness to cocreate a sustainable planet.

So, we are organizing to help people and leaders gain more inner-peace, wisdom and higher consciousness.

We are doing this by working together to create Wisdom Circles worldwide to help people become wise enough to cocreate a sustainable world, in balance with nature.

When you start your local Wisdom Circle, you are doing your part to help people become wiser, more compassionate, and able to seek creative, effective solutions to help us all meet our needs in harmony with Earth.

Let us know you have started your local Wisdom Circle!

IDEA

In 1979, I created a goal to grow 1000 children's gardens around the world. We ended-up with 135 in 17 countries. The United Nations loved it! We are now going to see how many Wisdom Circles we can start. 😊

I started a Wisdom Circle in Huntington, New York, USA, where I live. We meet monthly to explore what is wisdom, how do people gain it, how do we lose it, how can we regain it? We explore anything people want to share – books, articles, models, theories, stories, personal experiences, etc..

ORGANIZING

- We will create a website, with a list and map of where the Wisdom Circles are in the world.
- We will have a newsletter.
- If people want, we can have teleconferences to connect worldwide.
- If you have any advice how to organize, let me know. ~ Sandy Hinden

“We will grow
a wise civilization when children grows up feeling loved, valued, appreciated and respected.

People will then naturally be compassionate, appreciative and respectful of others.

As adults, we can also practice loving, valuing, appreciating and respecting ourselves each day.”
