

BIO OF LEAMON E. SCOTT

Author of A Seed For Cora Lee
A Pre-Katrina Story

Leamon E. Scott was born November 19, 1950 in Los Angeles, California. Growing up in Watts, he attended the public school system and developed a keen sense of creativity at an early age. Reading and writing became viable outlets in a neighborhood plagued with many social ills and inequalities. Leamon attended San Fernando State College during the socially turbulent sixties. A Seed for Cora Lee is Leamon's first endeavor into "long-range" writing. He creatively poured his soul into telling the story in such a manner that the readers will want to know – what's next?
