WELCOME TO WORSHIP

A shared experience

What comes to mind when you hear the word Pentecost? Many people think of a mighty wind, tongues of fire and multiple languages. But Acts 2 begins with another detail that's just as key: Jesus' disciples "were all together in one place." Because they were together physically and spiritually, the early believers didn't miss the life-changing, world-changing birth of the Church.

The pandemic, while changing our definition of gathering, also highlighted our need for interaction. If Jesus' first followers hadn't been assembled on Pentecost, they would've missed the outpouring of God's power and the indescribable joy God had for them. Think about what believers today might miss if we neglect to worship with other friends of Christ. Who would want to miss God's blessings, promises and joy?

At home with Christ

In The Longing for Home, Frederick Buechner writes: "The word longing comes from the same root as the word long in the sense of length in either time or space and also the word belong, so that in its full richness to long suggests to yearn for a long time for something that is a long way off and something that we feel we belong to and that belongs to us. ... The home we long for and belong to is finally where Christ is. I believe that home is Christ's kingdom, which exists both within us and among us as we wend our prodigal ways through the world in search of it."

While awaiting our heavenly home, we pray: Most High God, be our shelter from the storm and our dwelling place. May we always be at home with you in the eternal household you have prepared for those who love you. And may Christ always find a pleasant home in and among us. As you have welcomed us into your family, give us the compassion to welcome others into our own homes and lives, knowing that as we do it unto the least of these, we do it unto Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

God wants us to love and honor our mothers – not just on Mother's Day, but every day. The Bible tells us about many mothers who loved God.

WEATHERING THE STORM

Love is more than enough to remind a person of GOD and his goodness we should never allow hardness to enter our hearts because that will be the undoing of any meaningful bonds in our lives.

PROVERBS 17:17

The love you give to other people must be able to weather all seasons. People tend to make the mistake of thinking that love is only about feeling good. They believe that love is about the good times and nothing else. But that could not be any further from the truth. In friendships, family, and other meaningful relationships you will need love to help you through the tough times too. The tough times tend to come far often than we expect them, too. Challenges come in different shapes and sizes; they always arrive when we least expect it. The love you have for our friends and your family should be conditional or seasonal. You need to understand that people are going to let you down in life—whether you like it or not. Instead of shutting them out, choose to love them and forgive them for their shortcomings. We also have to acknowledge the fact that we, ourselves, are not perfect and we will make mistakes too. In those moments, you will hope for love and forgiveness too. It's very easy to judge others when you are the one who is on high ground. Love keeps you together when it seems like all hope is lost. With the world we live in, it isn't very hard to lose hope. The physical, natural, and economic disasters that occur on a daily basis are enough to weaken the strongest hearts, but that is why we have friends and family—to get through everything together. No one was born to be on an island. We have been blessed with the gift of companionship so that we can love one another through the great moments and through the storms. Love is enough to give a person the boost they need to carry on with their day.

PRAYER

Love is more than enough to remind a person of God and His goodness. We should never allow hardness to enter our hearts because that will be the undoing of any meaningful bonds in our lives. Continue to let the love of God flow through your heart and into the lives of the people around you. As you do so, they will do the same for you, and you will all find that you can weather storm together.

CPR Course: a great success.

Eight were certified. Joe Chandler and Wayne from SMD donated their time and all the equipment plus paid the $25 fee for each attendee. What a blessing & Thank you so very much Joe & Wayne!

Hunger takes place all year long, everyday of the year. Please continue to donate in the grocery basket out in the fellowship area. Every little bit helps & Thank you in advance.

Please don't forget your Tithing during this time when some are not attending church in person. You can do this VIA on-line, sending it in, on your phone or whatever. There's lots of ways to keep up with your Tithing's & thank you for remembering.

Have something to share with you're Church Family? We'd love to hear from you. Contact Jeanice Jensen at 777-5678 or gjjensen@frontiernet.net

At the last leader's meeting on the 18th of April, it was approved to resume a modified fellowship following worship on May 2nd. Coffee, cookies & similar will be served indoors or out, depending on the weather of course. Regular functions at worship such as passing the peace, the plate, & communion will be discussed at the May Session meeting. Hopefully we're thing regular functions on June, 6th, 2021. We would continue to use hand sanitizer, & washing your hands, etc to continue to stay safe.
