

EMS Operations Management & Leadership

A Wisconsin Office of Rural Health Workshop

The Wisconsin Office of Rural Health is accepting registrations for the Wisconsin EMS Operations and Leadership course. This one and a half day course will dive into management of daily tasks, including on-call schedules and budget development, development and revision of policies and procedures, identifying and filling out required state forms and much, much more.

Who Should Attend?

The course has been developed for the benefit of those in EMS operations management positions and those aspiring to management positions. Leadership interested in guidance or clarification on issues, and those interested in becoming a supervisor, manager, or leader in their agency should attend.

Your instructors will be Dana Sechler, former State EMS Advanced Life Support Coordinator and current EMS Chief / Service Director, and Dan Williams, former State EMS Chief and 25 year Service Director, partners in Strategic Management & Consulting.

Register

The registration fee for this event is $70, and includes a light meal on Friday and a breakfast/lunch on Saturday.

Register and pay online at:
charge.wisc.edu/ruralhealth/workshops.aspx

Questions?

Contact Kevin Jacobson by email at kmjacobson2@wisc.edu or by phone at 608-261-18888.

Workshop Sessions

There are three dates/locations to choose from. These are standalone workshops, not a series:

*Tomah
Cranberry Country Lodge
319 Wittig Road
May 10th, 5:30pm-10:00pm &
May 11th, 7:30am-5:00pm*

*Platteville
Southwest Health EMS
1400 Eastside Road
May 17th, 5:30pm-10:00pm &
May 18th, 7:30am-5:00pm*

*Rothschild
Grand Lodge Waterpark Resort
805 Creske Avenue
May 31st, 5:30pm-10:00pm &
June 1st, 7:30am-5:00pm*