Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (Part Two)

Extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion may be designated for a fixed-period mandate or ad actum (one time):

When extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion are to be deputed for a time, this deputation is made in writing by the Archbishop upon the recommendation of the pastor or religious superior through the Office of Divine Worship. These appointments are made for a specific parish or institution, and cannot be exercised elsewhere. The term of office is three years, effective from the time of commissioning. The term is renewable, but application must again be made to the Archbishop.

Designation ad actum is done by the priest celebrant in the course of the Mass, using the rite found in the Missal.⁸⁴ This should be done only in cases of real need and not become a habitual or frequent practice.

The Order for the Commissioning of Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion is to be used when these ministers first begin their ministry. However, any ceremony associated with the commissioning or deputation of extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion should be simple, sober, and must not have any resemblance to the rites of sacred ordination, nor may such ceremony have a form analogous to what is prescribed by the liturgical books for the conferral of the ministries of lector or acolyte.

Extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion should receive sufficient spiritual, theological, and practical preparation to fulfill their role with knowledge and reverence.

To serve as extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion in the Archdiocese of Portland in Oregon, persons must:

- Be practicing Catholics, distinguished in their Christian life, faith and morals.
- Be at least 16 years old.
- Have received the sacraments of Baptism, confirmation, and Eucharist.
- Demonstrate a deep reverence for and devotion to the Eucharist.
- Possess the requisite abilities and temperament to carry out their assigned duties.
