

Red Nose Day is back on Friday 13th March!

Ever since its launch in 1988, Red Nose Day has become something of a British institution. It's the day, every two years, when people across Britain come together. Red Nose Day is a day like no other when the whole country gets together to do something funny for money and change countless lives in the process. It all culminates in a night of cracking TV on the BBC with some of the biggest names in comedy and entertainment.

Having fun and changing lives!

Red Nose Day is back on Friday 13th March and once again, the nation is gearing up to put on their Noses, pull out all the stops, and get fundraising.

Whether it's at work, at school or at home, the money raised for Red Nose Day is spent by Comic Relief to transform the lives of millions of people, both at home in the UK and across Africa.

Get Involved!

Thousands of people pull out all the stops to fundraise at their workplace each year. So Care Workers, Owners, Managers and even the Residents can take part!

It's all Fun for a Good Cause!

For more information about this fantastic cause, and to find out ways to get involved, click here: <http://www.comicrelief.com/>

