

Robert Getz has been the Roundtable Representative for Hinsdale County for the past two years. After growing up in the San Luis Valley on a trout farm, for twenty years he alternated his time between farming in the valley and working in the mountains. He and his wife and son have been living year round, off grid above the Rio Grande Reservoir for over fifteen years, where they have owned and operated a guest ranch and the outfitting business Bob started in 1982. He and his family continue to work in the back country as contract workers for the San Luis Valley Water Conservancy District. Additionally, they are now completing the construction of their new home on their land along the Headwaters of the Rio. The integrity and well- being of this river and these mountains have been a vital part of Bob's life and his family for four generations.
