MEDIATION

The Intertribal Court of Southern California proudly offers mediation services to its member tribes.

Mediations are conducted by Intertribal Court of Southern California judges and governed by the rules of the American Arbitration Association.

Mediation sessions are generally held at the Intertribal Court of Southern California. Parties may not be represented by attorneys or other advocates and witness testimony is not permitted. Formal evidentiary rules do not apply. Sessions are held for up to one hour, subject to extension by the mediator. The mediator may also schedule additional sessions.

Disputes subject to a valid order of any court will not be mediated.

Mediation results may be incorporated into an agreement signed by the parties. Results will not be incorporated into an order of the Intertribal Court of Southern California. Results may not be presented as evidence in any court proceeding.

The cost of mediation is $250.00 per party to be collected upon receipt of a Joint Petition for Mediation.

For additional information regarding mediation services or to obtain a Joint Petition for Mediation, contact the Intertribal Court of Southern California at (760) 751-4142.
