Carmel Archambault with Sadie, Chester and Annie

Carmel Archambault may not have dogs of her own, but she's still completely in love with them!

Her Pound Ridge Pet Care invites pups of all ages, sizes and spots into her air-conditioned home for day care, overnight or vacation — with flexible hours, unusual in the pet care world.

"I have up to six dogs here in the house at any given time; they're here while I'm cooking, watching TV and in my office," says Carmel. "No leashes, kennels or cages, and the dogs sleep on my bed if they want to and go in the car for errands. Dogs are socialized and exercised here, and they're relaxed here."

Pound Ridge Pet Care features two fenced-in yards, for separating dogs by size if needed. To ensure compatibility, Carmel asks owners to bring dogs in for a "meet and greet" before signing up. She's fully insured, and dogs must be vaccinated.

Calling her home "dog heaven on earth," Carmel administers medications and even takes dogs to the vet or groomer.
