28 de mayo de 2017 • La Ascensión del Señor

La lectura de los Hechos nos da una descripción bastante completa de la Ascensión. Jesús se elevó y desapareció de la vista, pero no sin antes que los discípulos hicieran un montón de preguntas de qué es lo que pasaría. Los discípulos todavía están pensando que el reino de Israel será restaurado. Jesús les responde con una promesa de poder del Espíritu Santo y una comisión que ellos serán testigos no solo para Israel sino hasta los confines del mundo. Pero los discípulos todavía están pensando en algo muy pequeño. Jesús sabe que el significado de su muerte y resurrección no es pequeño. Los discípulos no pueden ni imaginar lo que esto significa para ellos al estar ahí parados mirando el cielo. Jesús les dice que una vez más su trabajo es anunciar a cada persona acerca de su vida y obras, bautizarlas y enseñarles sus mandamientos.

NUNCA PODER DECIR ADIOS

Los discípulos todavía pensaban que esto era acerca de su vida y su mundo. A ellos, Jesús les recuerda lo que ellos han vivido con él, su vida, muerte y resurrección es más grande y de gran alcance de lo que ellos se puedan imaginar. Esto no es solo acerca del reino de Israel. Esto es acerca de todas las naciones. Esto no es acerca de ser testigos en Jerusalén, Judea y Samaria. Este trabajo los llevará a los confines de la tierra. Es una misión enorme que se nos dio a nosotros y a los discípulos. Esto les parece imposible a los discípulos y también nos parece imposible a nosotros ahora. Pero no lo es. Es posible porque no estamos solos en esta misión. Jesús está con nosotros no un día o una semana o toda nuestra vida. Jesús está con nosotros siempre, hasta el fin del mundo.

MAY 28, 2017-SEVENTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

ASCENSION OF THE LORD

SHARE THE HOPE

The readings for today's celebration of the Ascension of the Lord once again remind us that as Christians we are people of hope. In the second reading Saint Paul eloquently exhorts the Ephesians to enlighten their hearts so that they will know the hope and glory that come from being people who place their trust in the Lord Jesus. In the story of the Ascension, recounted in the first reading, the Lord Jesus assures the disciples that the Holy Spirit's power will come upon them. Finally, in the Gospel, the Lord lets the disciples know that their mission is to spread the hope of the gospel to all the nations. This wonderful feast keeps our eyes focused on the hope in which we were grounded on the day of our baptism.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

If you could somehow transport a third-century Christian into your twenty-first-century Sunday Mass, once the initial shock wore off he or she would be more or less at home with the structure of the first part of the liturgy, the Word. The second part might be more difficult to comprehend. The stumbling block would be the book. We have a book, a missal that is set down on the altar with a very precisely prescribed set of words for the priest to say and the people to sing at the Eucharistic Prayer. In the early days of the church, there were no set "formulas" for this prayer. The ancients would have raised eyebrows at our "bookishness" since they preferred to let the prayers roll forth from a gifted leader of prayer. There was a basic shape to the prayer of thanksgiving, and almost general agreement that the words of Christ at the Last Supper ought to be included.

By the second century, Justin Martyr wrote that the presider "gives thanks at some length . . . and when he has finished the prayers and the thanksgiving, all the people present give their assent by saying 'Amen.'" In the world before books, people could memorize long passages of prose and poetry, and so it is easy to see how particular phrases or expressions passed from church to church. —Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.
