

IOWA TODAY[®]

In memory of a missing girl

Kaitlyn Bernauer/The Gazette

A small crowd gathers around to receive balloons Saturday at a balloon launch for Erin Pospisil on National Missing Children's Day in Jones Park in Cedar Rapids. Erin went missing 12 years ago, and her family has been holding an event such as this for 10 years. Because of the rain, the balloons could not be released and instead were passed out to be taken home and released later.