Pastoral to our clergy, religious, seminarians, and beloved faithful of St. Josaphat Eparchy, and to all people of good will everywhere in the world.

The Ascension of Our Lord as depicted in the Acts of the Apostles calls to our attention a beautiful and deeply profound scene. Upon seeing the Lord ascending into the heavens, the Apostles keep their gaze fixed on Christ and are unmoved. St. Luke writes: “And while they were gazing into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them in white robes, and said, ‘Men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into heaven? This Jesus, who was taken from you into heaven, will come again in the same way as you saw him go into heaven’” (Acts 1:10-11 RSV-CE).

As we in the Church celebrate the season of the Pentecost, we are reminded that we are also called to go and preach the Good News to all nations. Initially, the apostles were astonished, or perplexed, because they saw the Risen Lord once again leaving them. But empowered by the power of the Holy Spirit, they went out and proclaimed the Good News with a new vigor and with boldness.
