President's Letter

Greetings All,

The meeting on April 17th went well this month. We covered various items as noted in the minutes but there was a first for the meeting. As some of you know I pulled a muscle in my back and could not physically attend the meeting. I presided over the meeting remotely using Skype. It worked very well and this now gives us another option for holding meetings in the future.

I will be adding a discussion item on next month's agenda requesting the ability to hold the meetings remotely or at least it can be used if a board member cannot attend for whatever reason.

I would like to thank Dave Peterson for completing the move of the cut-away engine from Anoka Technical College to Terry down at Little Dearborn. The cut-away engine was stocked with membership forms as well.

I would like to thank the staff at Anoka Technical College and Little Dearborn for displaying the cutaway engine for our club.

The clinic on April 15th was very interesting and informative on "Prohibition" clinic by David Jones. The presentation by David was well received by all who attended. I would like to thank Tom and Debbie Owens for suggesting the prohibition topic and funding it as well.

The overhead projector and audio at the school was not functioning again but thanks to Jerome Bokelmann for bring in all of our overhead projector / audio equipment. Darel Leipold was at the clinic and he looking great after his surgery in March.

The weather over the weekend was beautiful. Make sure to let the Richardson's know if you plan on attending the tune up clinic at their home on May 5th. They need a head count so they now how much fried chicken to order. I heard we might have an upcoming Coffee Social so keep an eye out on the coming events in our monthly newsletter.

It has come to my attention that Steve Gray suffered a stroke recently. On behalf of the club we wish Steve a speedy recovery.

Well that's it for now.

Warmest Regards,

Doug Portlance – TCMAFC President

Men's Clinic

The clinic had a professional speaker address the group on the topic of Prohibition. I believe this clinic attracted the most number of attendees for this seasons clinic so far. David Jones is a speaker who has a series of different topics that he presents to groups. Since Prohibition was in the years of Model A production there was much interest in our members as many have read about that era and collect items from that period. Mr. Jones gave us the reasons for the Temperance movement, facts and figures relating to individual alcohol consumption before, during and after the law of Prohibition. We learned how the United States constitutional amendments were enacted and created to deal with the start and the end of the Prohibition era. Politics, and special interest groups were in engaged in agreements as well as differing strategies in the formation of what became Prohibition. Our own state federal representative to congress, Andrew Volstead is usually credited with the reason for the 18th amendment to the constitution which in effect created Prohibition. Prohibition is many times referred to as the Volstead Act. Mr. Jones mentioned that one out of every three dollars of tax collection before Prohibition was from the alcohol consumption taxes. This show cased what a large revenue business that industry was. Once the law became effective soon organized crime became the new liquor industry. Criminal activity now had an enormous revenue stream to pocket once they got set up and figured out how to keep things hidden. Society still consumed a lot of liquor and new types of "cocktails" were developed. Previously most liquor was pure and rarely mixed with anything other than water. The bootleg and back door illegal liquor was harsh and needed something to smooth them out so juices, and flavors were mixed in. Women in the 1920's were becoming more progressive and a more visible part of society and speakeasy's and entertainment clubs now welcomed women to be out in public and alcohol was ever present. During this time period the Great Depression developed and hard times were felt across the world and especially in the United States. One of Mr. Jones theories he advanced and supported with some evidence suggested that by ending Prohibition crime would fall and the enormous sums of money illegally spent on liquor and also the enormous amount of money the government was spending on supposedly enforcing and preventing people from consuming alcohol would help the economy grow again. Once Prohibition ended the government now again began to collect the taxes associated with the liquor and alcohol sales. We all enjoyed the presentation along with the pictures and video images he shared with us.
